SP^{25 Years Of}IRIT

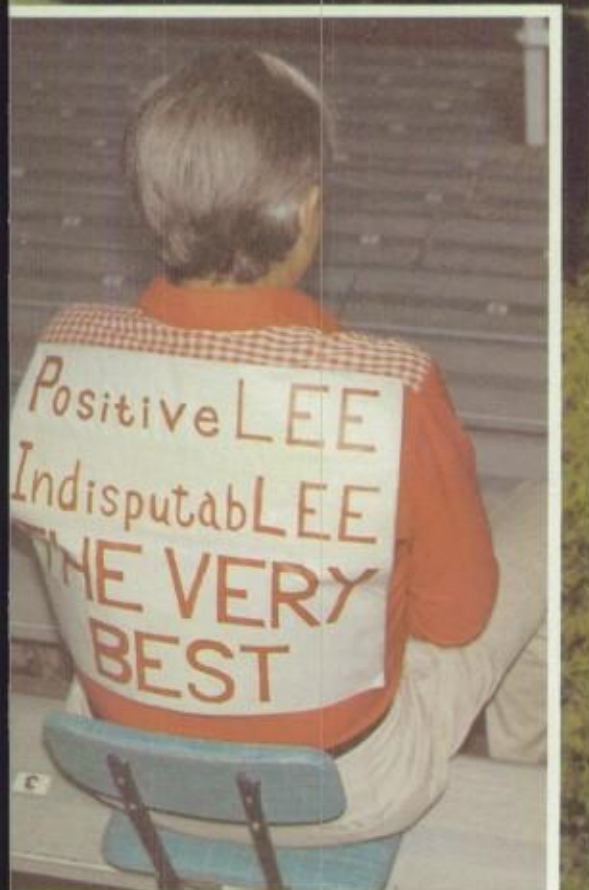

Before students arrive at Lee, they hear about one major thing, school spirit. They hear about the band playing in the halls, the Lee-ettes cheering behind them in the pep rallies. Twelve years ago when the football team won the state title, spirit was high. Ever since then, Lee has been "the school to go too." We have school spirit because the student body gets involved in school related activities. Lee has many organizations for students to participate in such as sports, Lee-ettes, drama, choir, band and many more academic clubs. During the school year the student clubs or the PTA host fund raisers and hold activities where everybody gets together and has a great time. One of the favorite fund raisers is Volsfest. At Volsfest all the clubs set up food or game booths or hold shows. Lee has acquired a great reputation for it's school pride over the past twenty-five years. If you have to find the neatest thing about Lee, it all boils down to that Volunteer spirit.

Varsity football players John Gutierrez and Mario Valdez show their school pride by singing the school song during an outside pep rally.

Chester Dietert, better known as "The Sign Man," has been a part of the Lee spirit for many years.

SP^{25 Years Of}IRIT

From math and history to fine arts, Lee has many outstanding courses to offer. The school makes it easy for students to excel by providing courses for the students personal level. The levels that are offered are basic, regular and enriched.

Lee also offers vocational programs such as auto mechanics, cosmetology, and VOE. Students may apply for a half of a day work permit where they come to school for half of the day and work the rest. This way students can have experience before they graduate from high school.

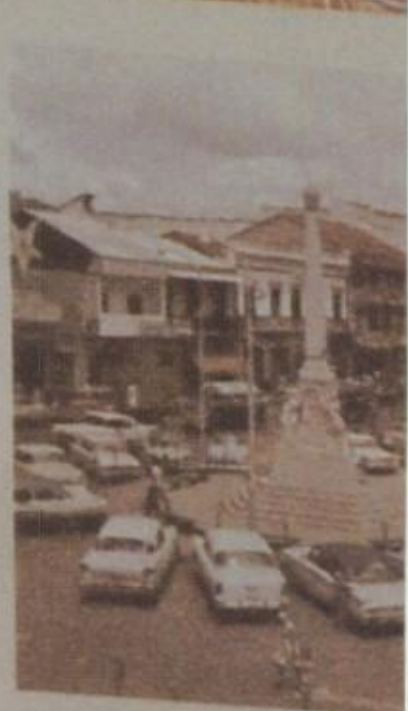

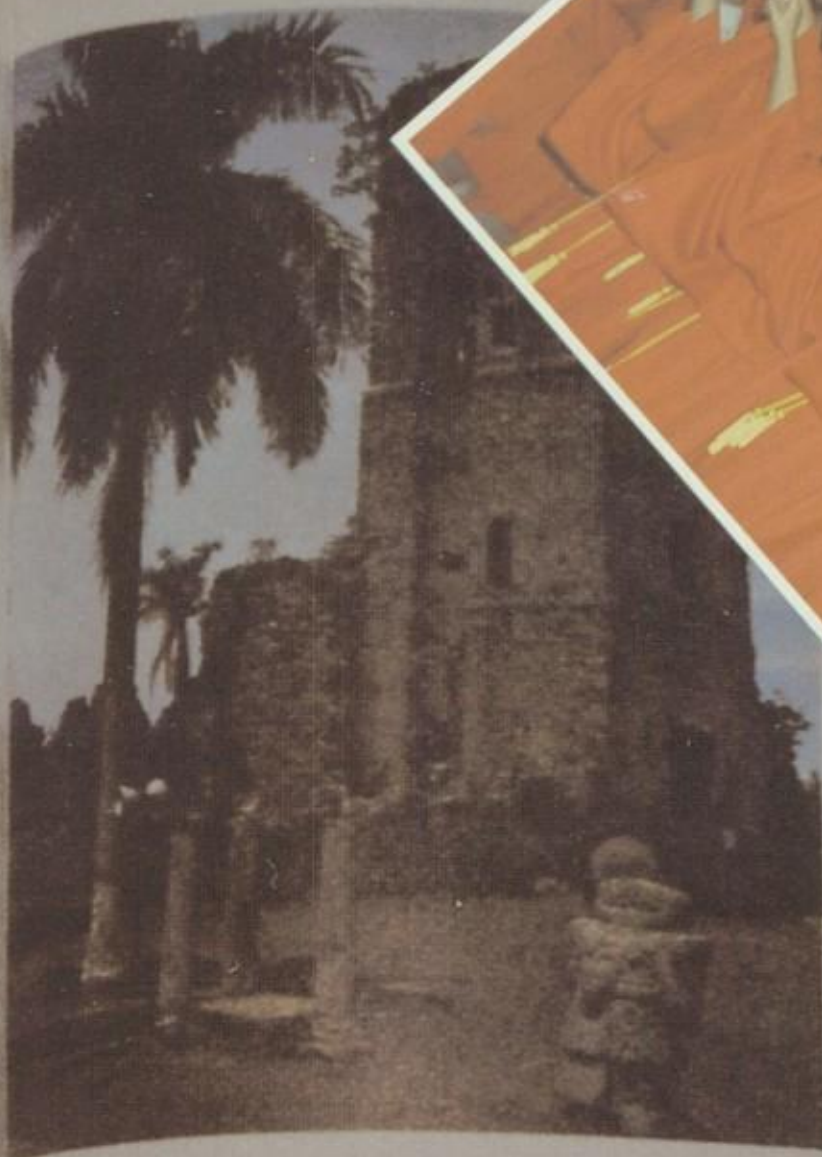

Academic clubs are very popular with the more serious students. Clubs such as the Science Club, Mu Alpha Theta, journalism, and many foreign language clubs. These clubs have sponsors and officers who organize educational and interesting activities for the members.

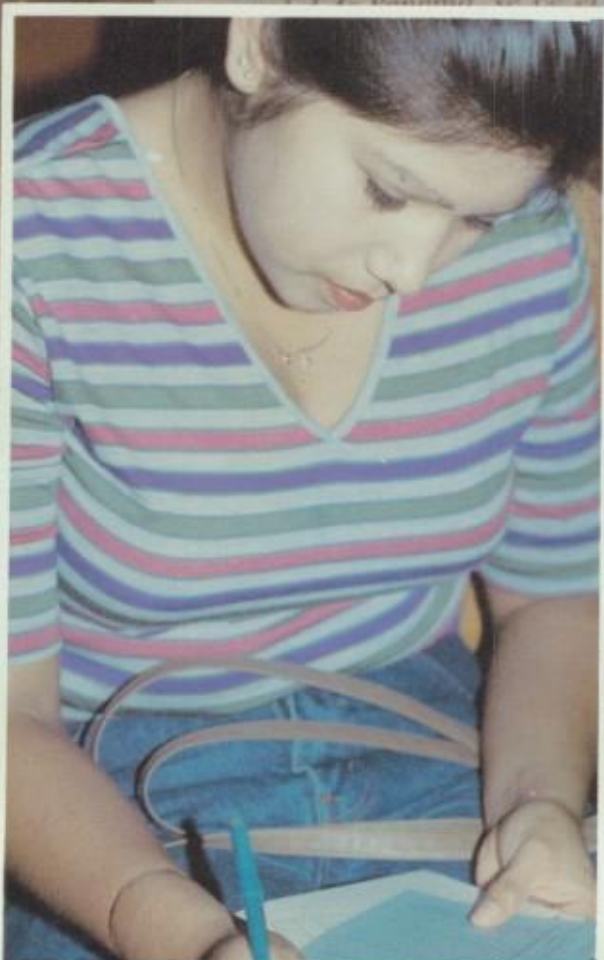

Graduation is a time when all the seniors realize they soon will be leaving their Alma Mater. This time is very emotional for the family and friends and, of course, the graduates.

A new registration procedure was put into effect in August. Not only did students sign up for textbooks, but they also had their school pictures taken. Joanne Bishop fills out her textbook card in the auditorium.

PANAMA Un país pequeño y de suma importancia. El famoso Canal de Panamá une los dos grandes océanos, el Atlántico y el Pacífico. Corta la distancia entre el mundo oriental y el occidental. No nos sorprenderá que sea un país de grandes contrastes y de una gran mezcla de culturas. En su capital, la ciudad de Panamá, se ve el barrio francés al lado del Viejo Panamá. Panamá Viejo, fue fundada por Vasco Núñez de Balboa en 1519, pero fue destruida por Morgan en 1671, pero en las cercanías de lo que fue una nación moderna. La famosa «mola» tejida por las mujeres cuyos antepasados fueron gentes de todas partes: españoles, piratas ingleses, franceses, norteamericanos.

we've got spirit

Spirit days brought an extra vigor on-to the campus. Students were able to express their spirit in crazy ways. Many wore wild clothes, hats, ties, shoes and whatever unusual clothing he/she could get his/her hands on.

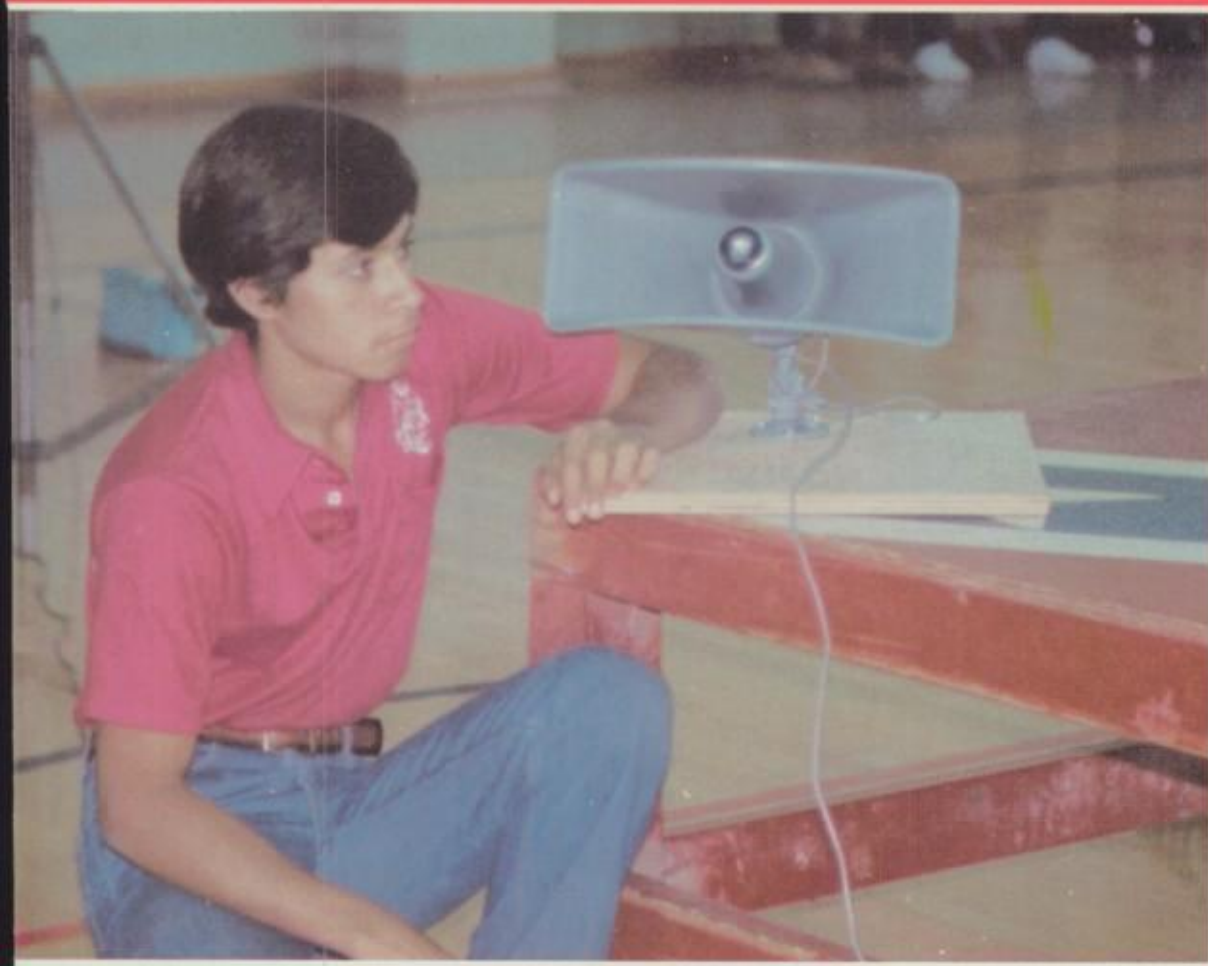

Punk glasses and attire were in, the wilder the better. The pep rallies were the best place to find the most spirited students. Several outdoor rallies gave students a chance to move around and become more involved.

Senior Paul Heitzman shows his spirit during one of the outdoor pep rallies. Nice days let students become more involved in the spirit. This year was the first time an outdoor pep rally had been done

Creativity on Parade

"It was a dream come true," I thought. My mouth watered when a life-sized taco walked toward me. The cheese, lettuce and olives reminded me of Taco Cabana; and I could hardly wait for lunch.

Suddenly my dream came to an abrupt halt. I saw fairies, punk rockers, Pilgrims, M & Ms, Lee-ettes and many other things flooding the courtyard. I then realized it was Halloween, and the costume contest had begun.

The contestants were judged by faculty members. After several trips down the long platforms, four were chosen as finalists. First place was taken by Sheryl Goeble, who came as a Datapoint computer. Second place went to Seniors Terry Carruth and Christa Griffith, who came as matching tacos, and third place was taken by two junior students: Sherri Melton, who came as a tube of toothpaste; and Rhonda Sadler, who came as Beaker from the Muppet Show.

Fun Times At Volsfest

Food, fun and confetti were the three main ingredients in Volsfest. On Saturday, October 30, the campus was full of students, parents and friends all out to have a good time. The different organizations worked for weeks getting ready for the "big day."

For the people, Volsfest was a time for entertainment. Some of the booths that were set up this year were: the hitchin' post, the gold fish toss, the pie throw and the ever popular dunking booth. There were not only booths, but shows too. The Lee-ettes won first place for their show of dancing, skits, and of course the football players. ROTC showed a rifle exhibit and the mime troupe performed periodically during the day.

For the clubs it was a time to raise money for the coming year. Can you think of a more fun way to do so?

At 5 p.m. booths came down and the crowd went home only to come back later that night for the annual dance sponsored by the PTA. With all the food, games and entertainment, there wasn't a better way to spend a Saturday afternoon.

Juniors Kim Hill and Chris Ream walk down the red carpet as they are introduced as members of the Stratford Court.

Stratford Means Magic for Many

The tradition continued to thrive after twenty-five years of success. The Stratford Ball held January 15 at the Convention Center Mission Room gave students a chance to participate in one of the biggest events on the year.

Chauffeured limousines arrived at the door and out came a tuxedo clad man and a lady with a strapless taffeta dress that flared at the waist.

The Max played their rock music throughout the center. Students danced as they awaited the main attraction of the ball. Finally, the Stratford Court was introduced by the senior emcees Tim Green and Christine Postolos. Seniors Henry L. Davila and KaRynn Kolm were crowned King and Queen. The senior court duke and duchess were Andy Priest and Darla Garrahan. Sophomore Class honorees were Joe Alvarez and Yvonne Perales, and the Freshman Class representatives were Eric Stamp and Jennifer Wood.

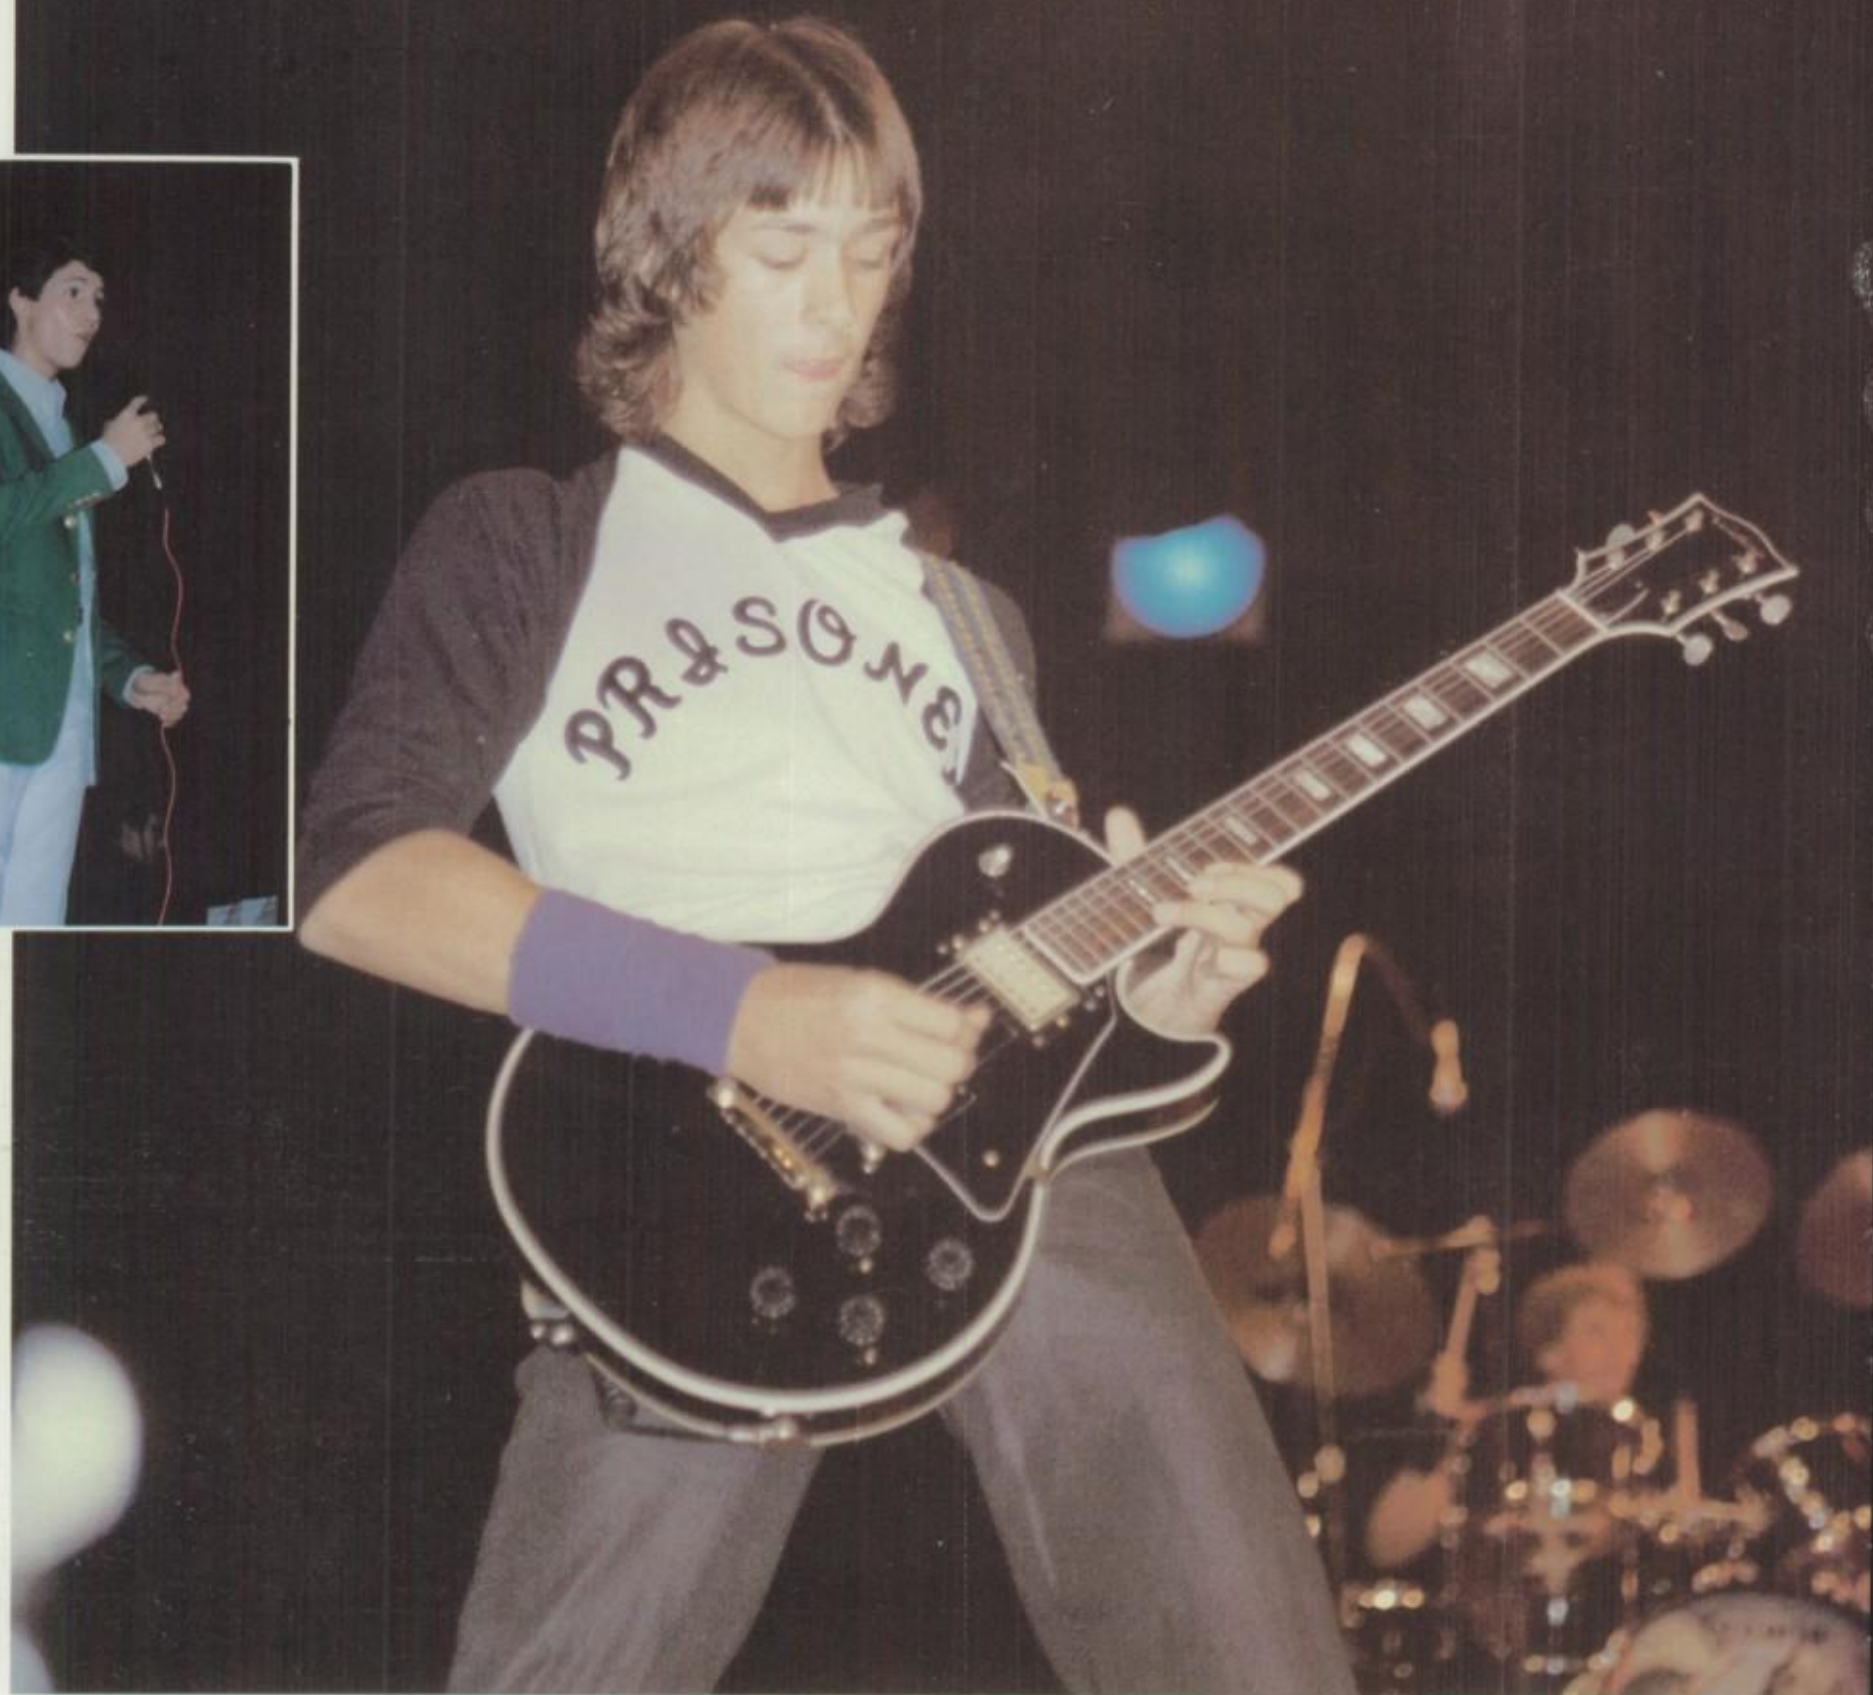

Seniors KaRynn Kolm and Henry Davila were crowned Queen and King at the annual Stratford Ball. The dance was sponsored by the Senior Class and all grades could attend.

Stratford Court patiently awaits the announcement of the 1983 King and Queen. This year the ball held at the Convention Center Mission Room.

Senior Michelle Gonzales and James Aguilar arrived at the ball in a chauffeured limousine. This was a popular trend this year.

Talent Shines at Show

If you are looking for singing, dancing, and production numbers, just look for Collage. Collage is the annual show featuring talent from every grade.

The most popular talent included The Black Knights, The Insects, Prisoner and of -ourse, the Senior Act. The show brought in a handsome gross for the Theatre Arts Department which will be used to help with future performances.

Junior Eddie Litofsky dazzles the audience with his rendition of "Zing Went the Strings of My Heart," and "Dinah."

Seniors Claire Cooper and Darla Stewart were two members of a dancing group that performed at Collage.

Seniors Clark Stevens and Christine Postolos acted as the MCs at the annual Collage.

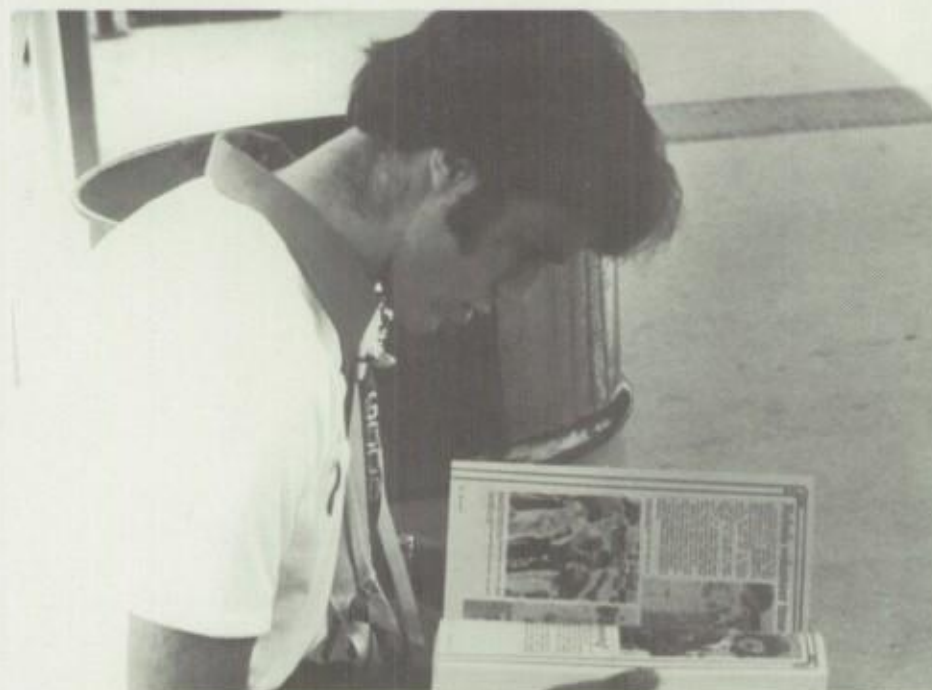

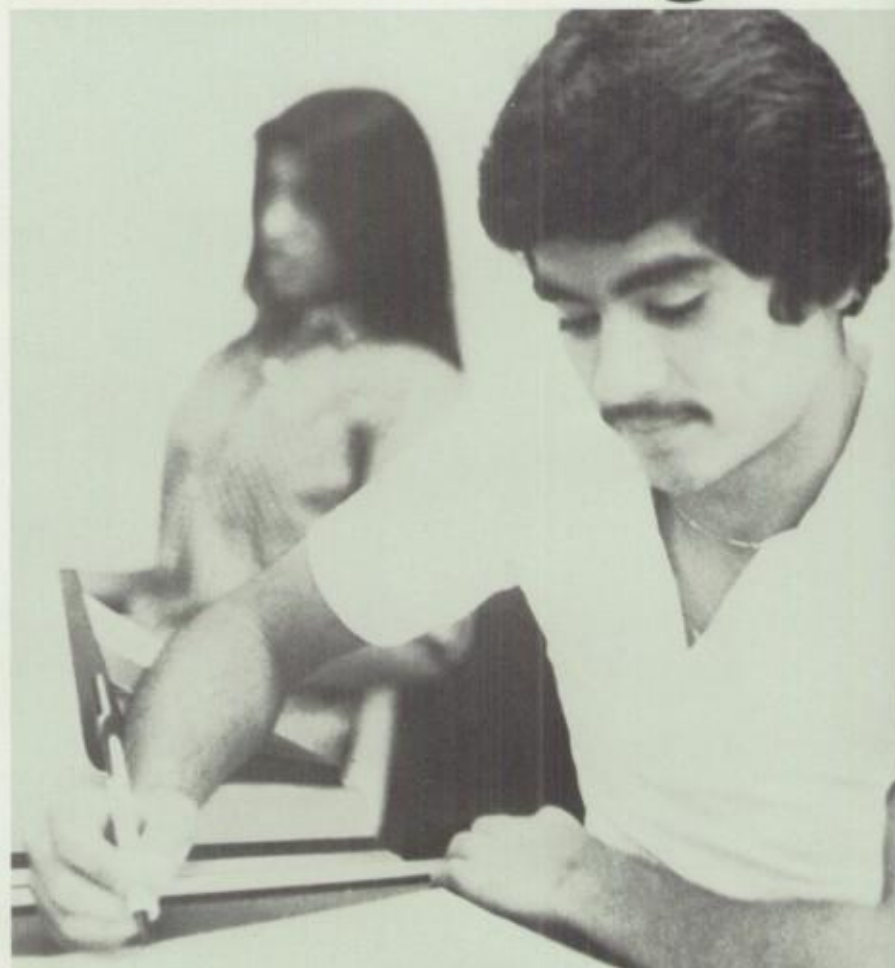

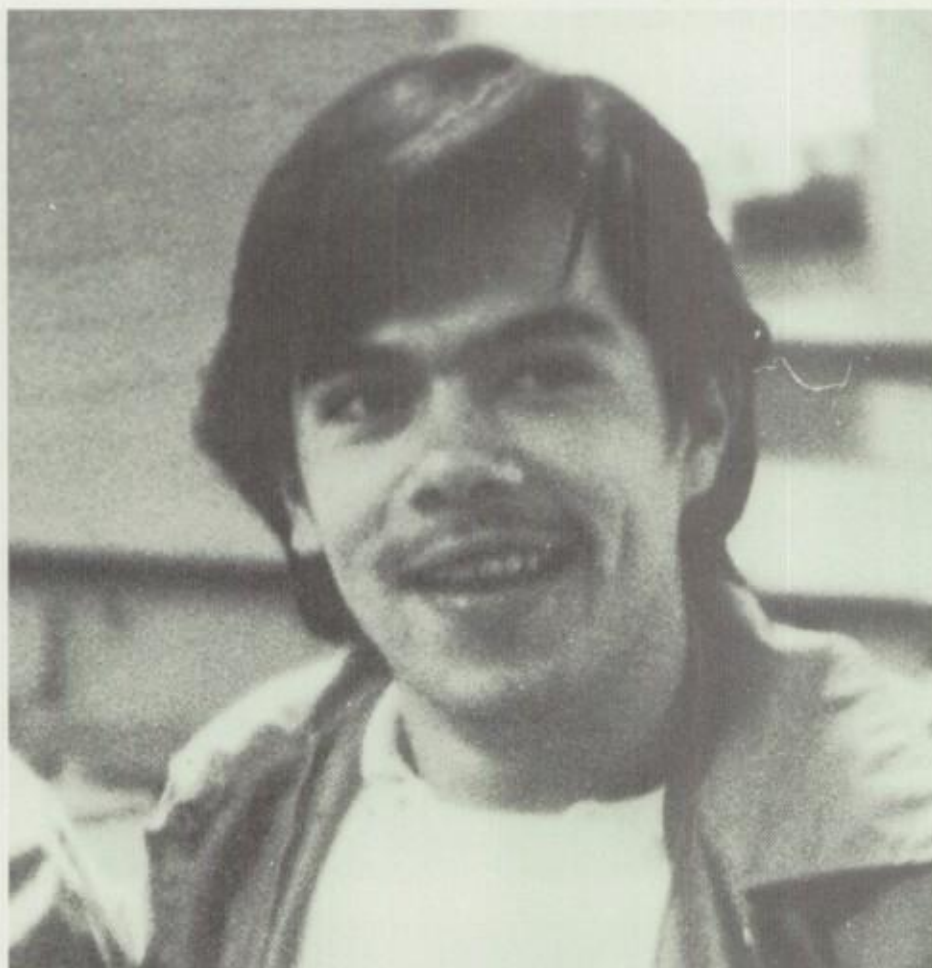

Many talented singers such as Sandra Kimbrough entertained the high school audience at Collage.

The Black Knights were one of the most popular groups at Collage. They received thunderous applause from the audience.

Phases and Stages

Where the Boys Are

Whether it be Colorado skiing, the New York night life or Port "A" fun, one could always find the boys as well as the girls almost anywhere. Connie Frances went looking for the boys at Fort Lauderdale in '62, and the boys and girls in '83 went looking for one another in Port "A".

Spring Breaks have not changed over the years with high school and college students. Getting up at 10 in the morning, having Post Toasties and beer, going out to the beach to catch some rays on top of a friend's car or on anyone's truck or jeep trying not to fall off is the excitement there. Bonfires on the beach and staying up till the early morning are the things to do in Port "A".

The weather was not as great as usual, rainy and cloudy was the forecast this year, but even so Senior Darla Stewart said, "The partying was so good."

In '93 Spring Break will not be different in any way except music and fashion. Partying from dawn to dawn, cruising down the beach in string bikinis will always be memorable for the famous Spring Break in Port "A".

Several Lee students and partiers crowd on top of a car for a cool ride down the beach.

Seniors Darla Stewart, Britt Leslie, and Melissa Villanueva celebrate during the night as well as the day. YEA, the festivities are not over YET!

Senior Christine Postolos, Junior Kurt Myers, Senior Connie Neathery, and Junior Lane Beachamp enjoy sightseeing. The World Trade Center was a treat for the native San Antonians.

Seniors Patty Ramon, KaRynn Kolm, Mike Rebelledo, Arlene Farias, Mahan, John Clark and Mike Sineni have big smiles and Hellos for the camera. Port "A", saying, "This is where the fun is."

Several students take a break and soak up the sun on the one day that is sunny in the dreary week of the coastal fun.

Seniors Darla Stewart, Britt Leslie, Cara Hunter and Stephanie have a reunion. A van is always convenient for easy riding.

Seniors Nancy Gibbens, Denise Nielson, Alexa Marrach, and Renee Rod take a cruise down the beach to see where the boys are.

Another senior activity is ordering caps and gowns. Seniors help each other with measuring.

Dancin' the Night Away on a Sea Cruise

Blossom Athletic Center was transformed into the "Love Boat" atmosphere of a cruise ship headed for the Carribean Saturday, April 16 for the Junior-Senior Prom.

Money raised by the Junior and Senior Classes and by the Student Council was used to hire the band and buy the decorations. Refreshments were also provided.

The class officers selected The Klocks as the band.

This was a semi-formal occasion and was open to all four grades.

For a while, Seniors Sherri McMeans and Bill DeLosSantos pretend to be on a Carribean cruise.

Graduation Night . . . Finally

For the 1983 graduates, time probably seemed endless from the day they were finished at school until Saturday, May 29 rolled around. This was Lee's year to be last in the series of North East high school graduations.

Two important events occurred at the ceremony. The first one was the initiation of honor graduate classification of summa cum laude (99+), magna cum laude (95-99) and cum laude (90-94).

The second event was that this was Mr. Bill Evans' last graduation ceremony as Lee principal because of his promotion to Director of Transportation for the District.

Deputy sheriffs and faculty monitors surveyed the huge crowd in order to keep the services with the air of proper decorum.

The ceremony went along smoothly, and anxious seniors became apprehensive graduates.

"Are you hiding anything in there?" asks Counselor Mary Lou Davis.

Fads and Fashion Put Focus on Individuality at Lee High

Gucci, videos, bandanas, miniskirts, sophisticates they are all so VOGUE. Gucci purses, wallets, key chains, belts; a variety of colored bandanas up to a knee; a suit, tight skirts, and pumps; miniskirts — miniskirts everywhere you turn. All of these are seen on campus. PUNK, VOGUE, AND VALLEY GIRLS are all the "IN" things to be, but just about everyone does his "own thing."

It is not too hip to be a prep anymore, but to look well dressed and sophisticated was the thing to do. Checkered van shoes, buttons on a shirt or jacket, buzzed off hair on top was all in for the punk scene.

OOOOOOOOOO MY GOOOOOOOOOD; FER SURE; LIKE WOW; GAG ME WITH A SPOON. These phrases swarmed the campus as well as the country when Moon Zappa sang the song "Valley Girl." Not only was the slang talk a fad, but the clothes were too. Polka-dots, miniskirts, stripes, purple make-up came along with it, too.

Duran-Duran was a big turn around for the male population. Pastel color pants and blazers and skinny ties became popular. Of course, a t-shirt button-ups and tennies stayed popular among the student body.

Seniors Arlene Farias, Rhonda Hoffman, KaRynn Kolm, Deanne Franz, Cathy Palcwski, Bill Stidham, DeeDee Davis, Courtney Wulfe, Susan

Autry, Karen Hunt, Christine Postolos and Kathy Hunt all pose for a fashion layout. Short, medium, and long lengths are popular styles. Also bow ties and colored panty hose everyone craves. Stidham shows off his Duran-Duran look.

Seniors Karen Larson and Wade Ruggles always wear the Punk fad look of buttons, bandanas and vests. Short hair was also popular.

Gucci and Space Sac purses are fashionable attire.

Bandanas up to the knees is an extreme of a popular fad.

Vans are probably the most popular shoe on campus.

o games of all kinds are popular ways to pass the time.

No Cure for Fridays

The clock ticked away slowly and minutes passed like hours as students gazed ahead almost senselessly.

Senior Johnathon McStudd looked dreamily at the clock — two forty-five. He sighed heavily. English had to be the second to worst subject anyone could have at the end of the day. Everyone knew math was the worst. Pinpointing that would be geometry. Who could concentrate on triangles and equations when the most prominent number on a student's mind was 3:30? Not to mention pie (II). Everytime that word echoed through the room, Johnathon tasted coconut cream melting in his mouth.

"Class, class" the teacher's whiny, nasal voice swam through the room. "Control yourselves . . ." Here came the ever-so familiar bi-weekly lecture. "I know it's sixth period and I know you're tired but I'm tired too."

Johnathon tuned her out at that point and just as he did Marlow Rider yelled out, "Then let's all just go home."

The class simultaneously gave a limp laugh, more to annoy the teacher than to humor Marlow.

Three-fifteen: Johnathon could handle that. One of his friends used to tell him that once you got past three it was down hill all the way. But to Johnathon the last fifteen minutes dragged on slowly and very un-surely.

After glancing at the clock at least forty-five more times, the bell finally sounded. It rang so loudly that as Johnathon walked down the hall it still echoed in his ears. He tried to relax and to allow the afternoon's activities to envelope him.

"Hey, how about a pizza from Godfather's?"

"Let's drag down Jackson-Keller." He grinned when he heard that, because usually the race started in the parking lot. As he turned the corner he caught the end of two girls' conversation,

"C'mon, why go all the way out to the smoking area? Let's just go to the bathroom."

Johnathon held his breath after he heard that and as he walked outside he let the fresh air surround him.

It was great to be out even if it was just for seventeen hours. Besides, soon it would be the weekend. But for now, Johnathon McStudd planned to collapse on the couch in his usual 4:30 position and allow himself to be absorbed by that wonderful ecstasy . . . M*A*S*H.

Seniors Honored With Assembly

A special Senior Awards Assembly was held May 17 in the auditorium to honor the many seniors who earned recognition both locally and nationally.

The honor graduates were all announced as were the National Merit finalists and Commended students. Other awards included special awards and the subject area awards. Department chairmen and sponsoring teachers spoke briefly about the accomplishments of the outstanding students.

Before the assembly, members of the Parent-Teacher Association hosted the Class of '83 to a chalupe dinner in the cafeteria.

Scheffler Happy to Be at Lee

As Assistant Principal Bobby Smith turned into Coach Smith, Mark Scheffler turned from Assistant Principal at South San West Campus to Assistant Principal at Lee. Native San Antonian Scheffler entered this school with a very positive attitude. He knew that he was leaving friends behind, but he was moving on to bigger and much better things. Scheffler said, "I'm glad to be here; Lee has a great reputation. I like the community, people and the kids." He feels that the student body is great and its motivation comes from the home.

Scheffler never intended to be at all related to education. In fact, he got into it by accident. His first job in education was with South San as a chemistry teacher and then as an administrative assistant. He later served as an assistant principal at West Campus. After 14 years in the Southside School District, he is now at Lee serving as an assistant principal. Along with any job there are good and bad aspects. He describes it as driving a Cadillac next to a Volkswagen (of which he has owned three). His least favorite part of his job is dealing with non-students coming on to the campus. He feels there is a lack of support among the legislators regarding the laws on this matter.

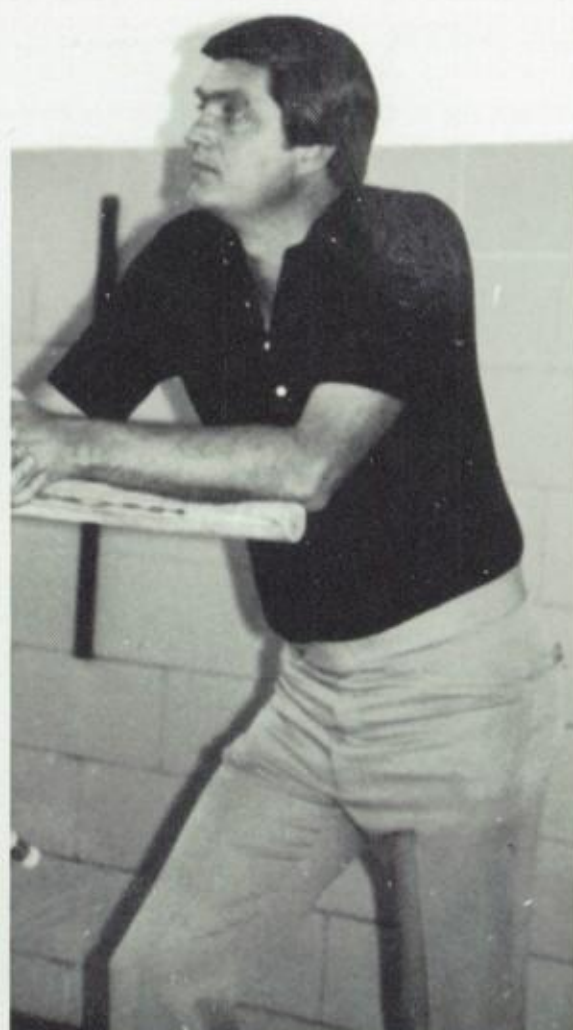

His favorite part of his job is working with fellow administrators and, of course, the student body. Scheffler loves working with people. Ten years from now he would like to be principal of a high school. "Coming to Lee was the best thing that ever happened to me in the field of education," said Scheffler.

Fun in Fine Arts

Included in the Fine Arts and Foreign Language Department are such classes as Drama, Band, Choir, Debate, arts and crafts and languages such as German, Spanish, French and Latin. Journalism is also included in Fine Arts.

Sue Weber who teaches German, heads the language department. Language classes are educational, cultural and fun. Students usually do reports from different countries to learn about them. A favorite among students is culture day. Students bring dishes from different countries and sample the food during class.

The Drama department put on many fine plays, including "West Side Story," and worked long hard hours to make them a success.

Research is the Key

Sooner or later you have to face it . . . the dreaded term paper. It starts the sophomore year with perhaps a short research paper and goes through the senior year with a ten page typewritten report necessary to graduate.

Ask any junior or senior and they will tell you that the term paper is the worst part of the English class.

Different teachers have different requirements for a paper to be acceptable. The average requirements are seven to ten typewritten pages or fourteen handwritten pages, an outline, 50 note cards and ten bibliography cards not to mention the rough draft. Working on your paper for six weeks is not at all unusual.

Numbers Increase in Math

Many exciting things happened in the Math Department this year. The department, headed by Algebra II teacher John Dawson, had a few additions to its staff.

Lynette Bazar was selected to teach Algebra this year. Surprisingly enough, she also taught Junior English and geometry.

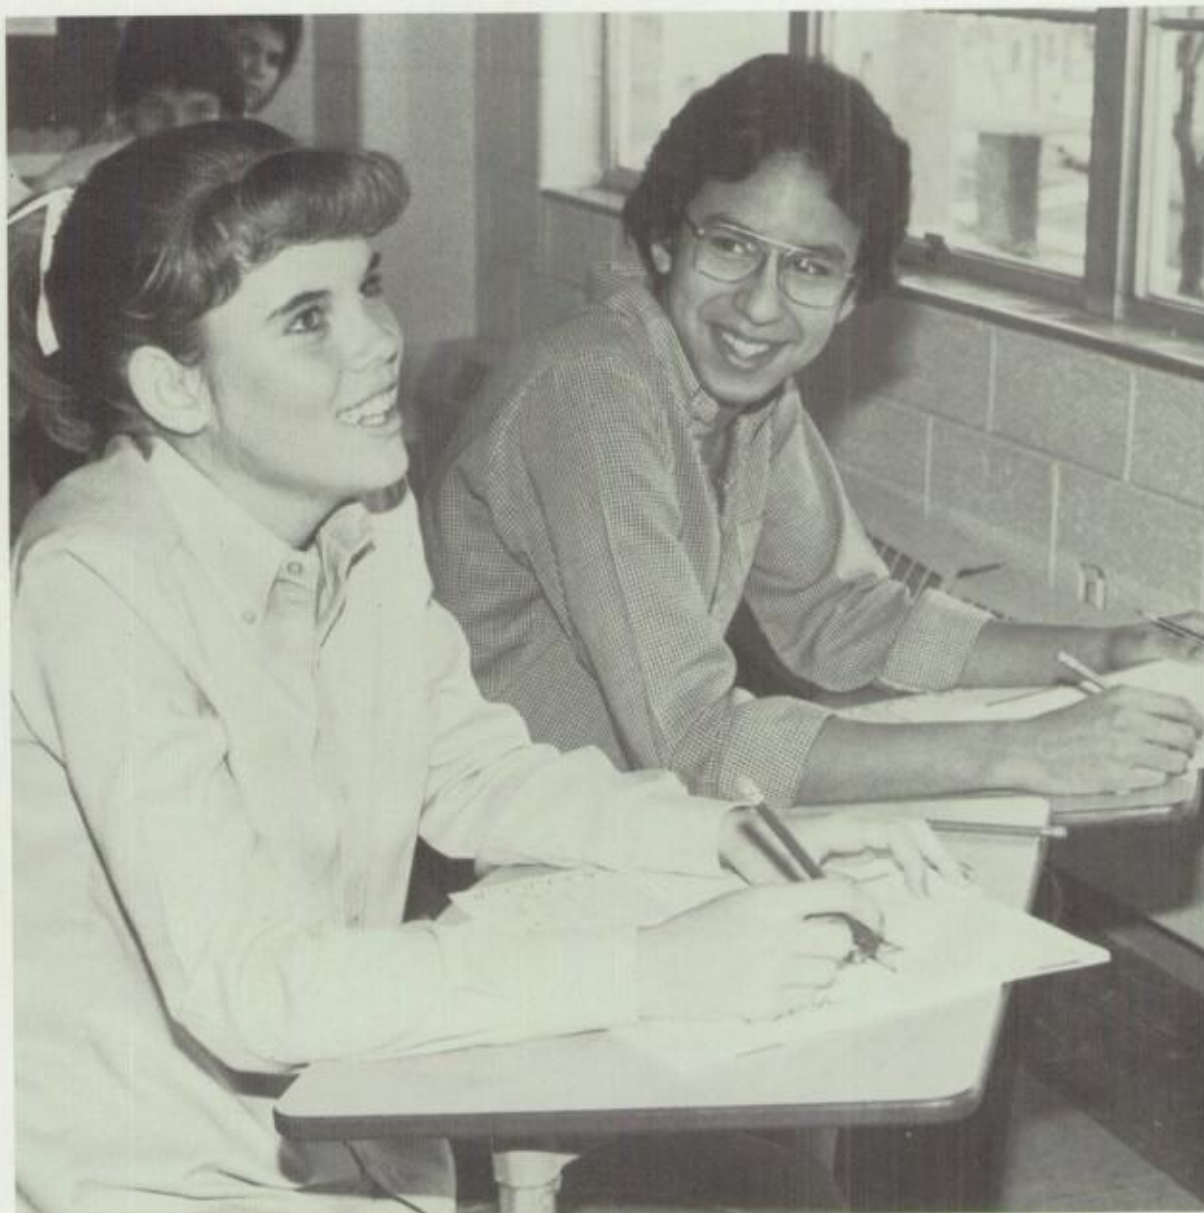

Jan Melton is another addition to the department's staff. She is now teaching fundamentals of math, Algebra I and computer literacy.

Mr. Raul Estrada entered Lee with a very busy schedule too; he taught algebra and computer programing.

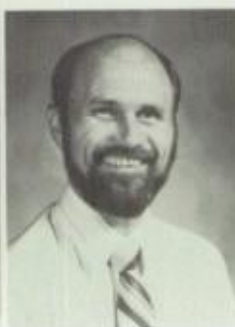

One can not talk about new additions without mentioning the new born babies of Fonda Gossen and Lynn Cox ... Congratulations.

Spectrum of Classes Offered in Science

Lee has a more than adequate Science Department headed by Mary Lysinger. Lysinger, who teaches biology, has been at Lee for over ten years.

Lee offers many different science classes of which two years are required to graduate. Some of the courses offered are: physical science, biology I, Biology II, environmental science and chemistry.

Environmental science was started last year by Fred Kinman. There was some question as to whether or not it would be a credited course. It is now offered for full credit to any sophomore, junior or senior wishing to take the class.

Students may be placed at different levels in almost any of their classes. In the Science Department, basic, regular, and enriched classes are available to students. However, a teacher recommendation is required for both basic and enriched classes.

Levels for Social Studies

During one's years in school, one takes many different kinds of history such as state history, geography, American History, World History and Government.

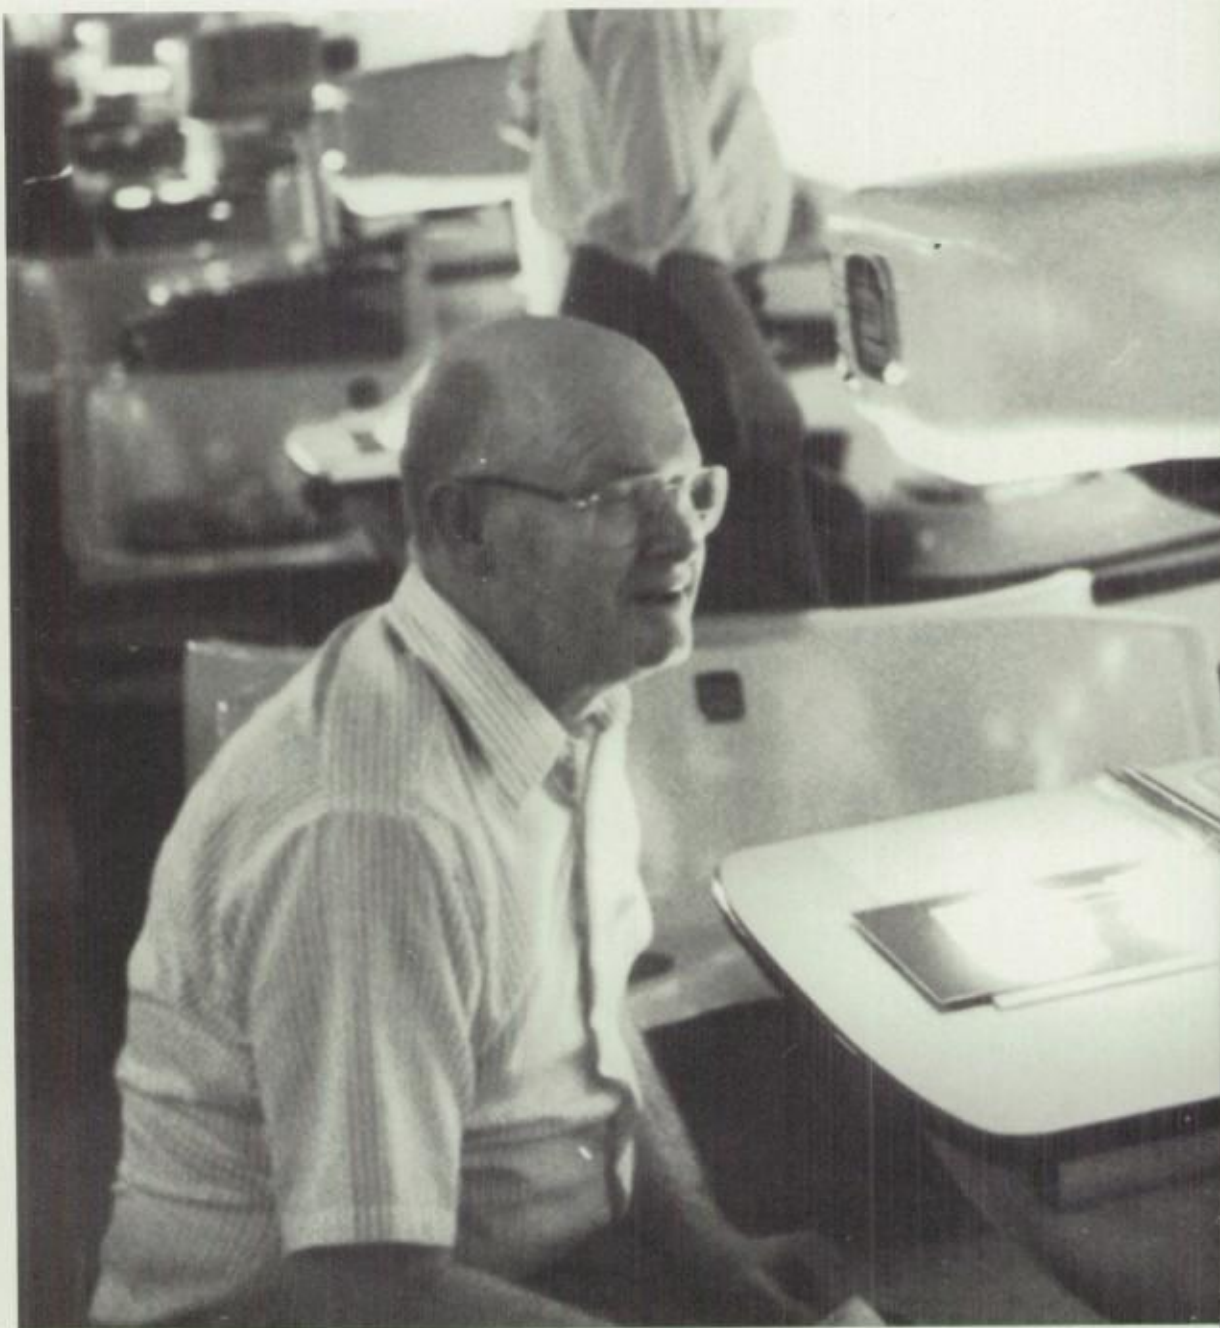

American History is taken during the first year in high school. Lee offers basic, regular and enriched classes so students can be placed in the environment in which they are able to learn the most.

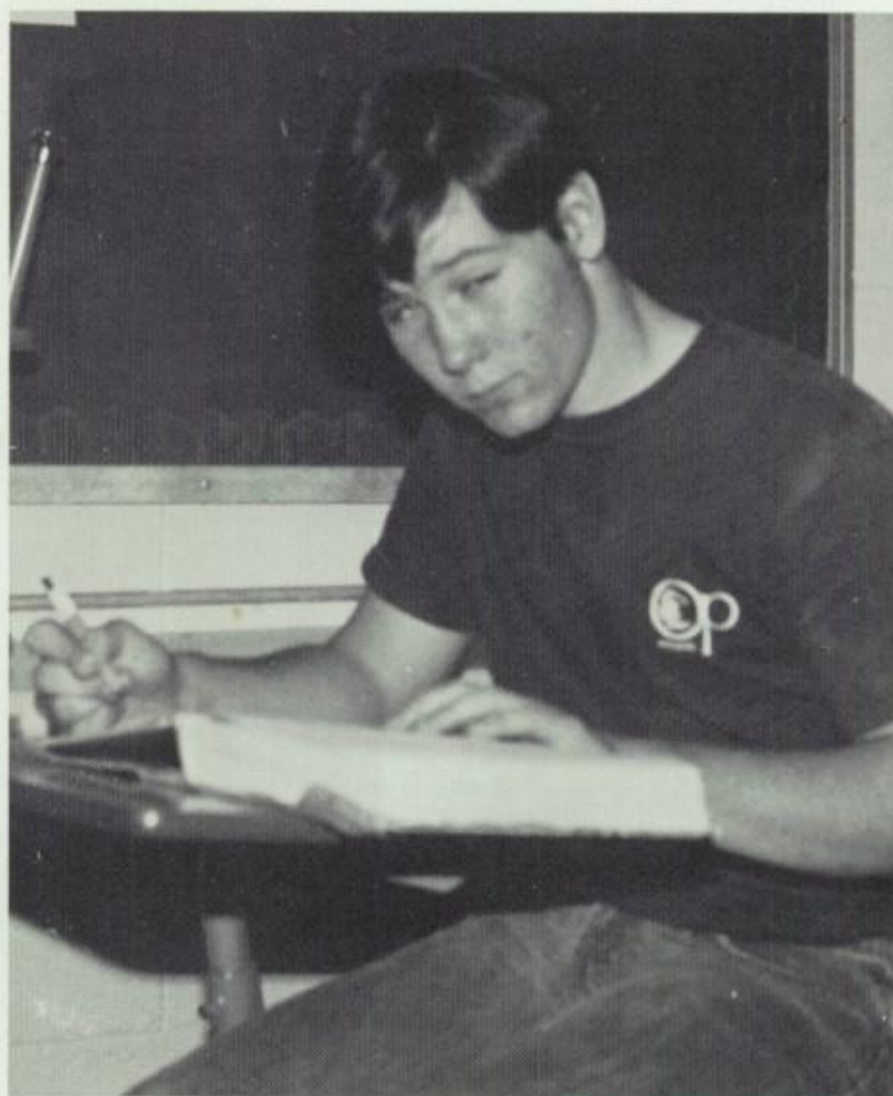

World History is taken either as a sophomore or a junior. This course also offers basic, regular and enriched.

American Government is offered to either juniors or seniors. It is in Government that students learn what goes on in the "real world."

Government teacher William Clary can do more than teach Government. He is also the coach of the bowling team.

For some students, like this one, history is fun and interesting. For others, however, it is one of the more difficult classes.

Students Plan for Vocations

Vocational education is a part of the curriculum in which students can have on-the-job training and still attend regular classes.

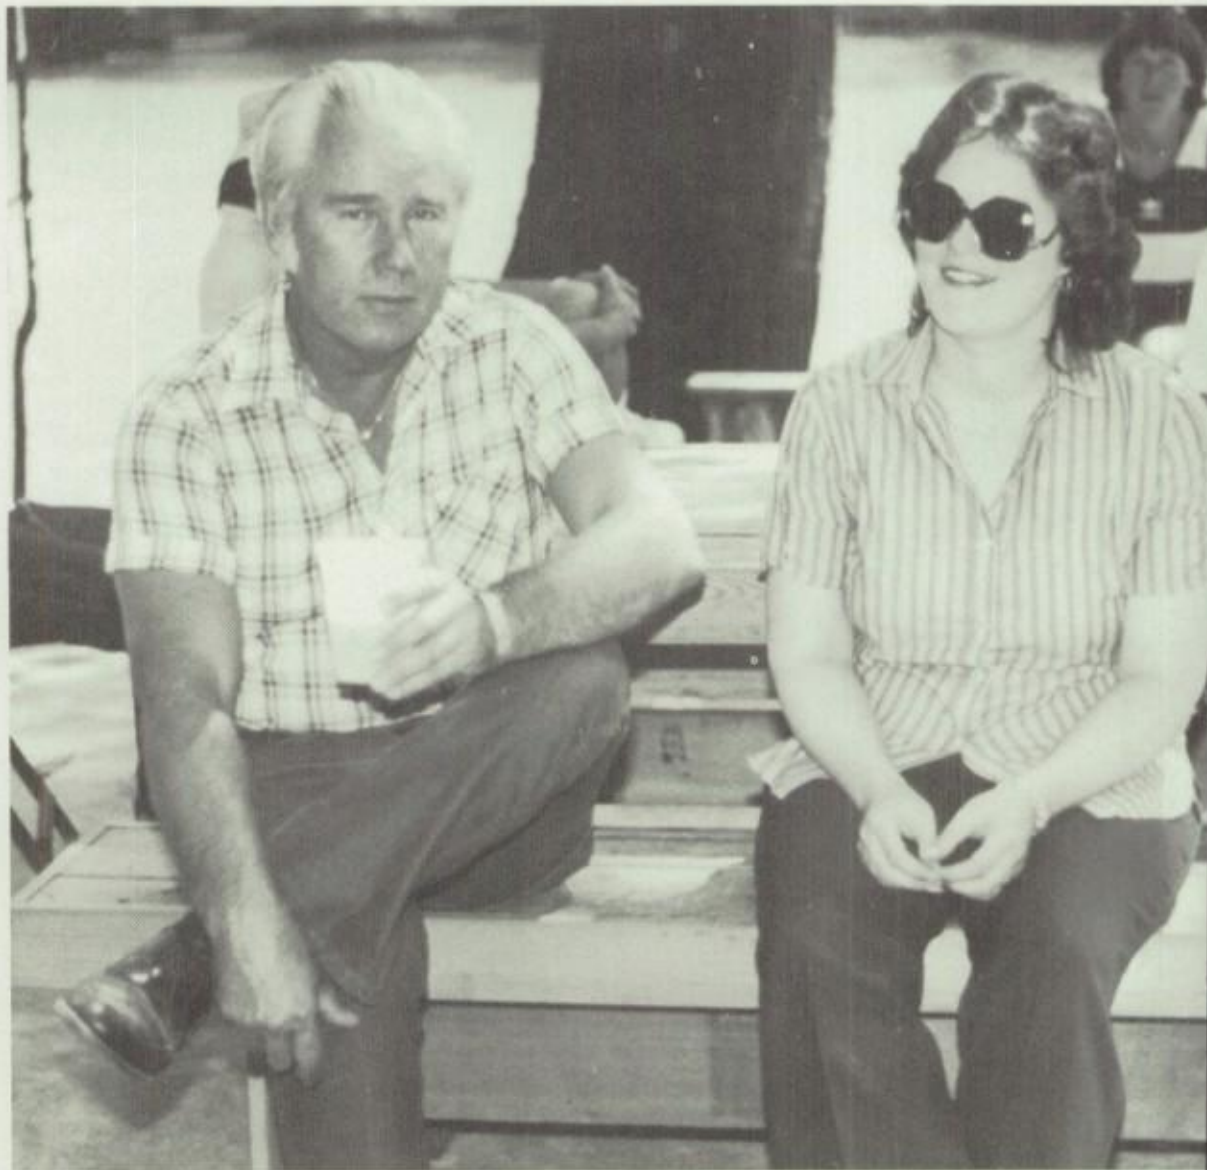

In this program, students must take at least three hours of regular classes such as English, math, history or science. After their three to four hours of required classes are over, the student either learns a special skill for a few hours or leaves the campus to go to work. When these students graduate, they have on-the-job experience that many young people don't have.

Some of the special areas include DECA, CVAE, VOE, auto mechanics, commercial art and cosmetology. There is even a course offered to those students who plan to go into health related occupations, called HOSA.

Vocational education is a real advantage to those students planning a career after leaving high school.

Home Ec Means More Than Cooking

The Home Economics Department had a very profitable year with many successful and exciting events. The M.D. Jump-a-thon, the Valentine's Day breakfast, "trust walks" and the pool party were just a few.

The department raised several hundred dollars for Muscular Dystrophy by holding a Jump-a-thon. Homemaking students were sponsored by other students who paid them to jump rope.

Homemaking along with Food Services sponsored a Valentine's Day breakfast for the faculty and administration.

"Trust walks" are held every year in the Human Relations class. Students are blindfolded and led around campus by other students.

PE Classes Get in Good Shape

Physical Education is one course required at all high schools. One must have two and one half credits of P.E. to graduate.

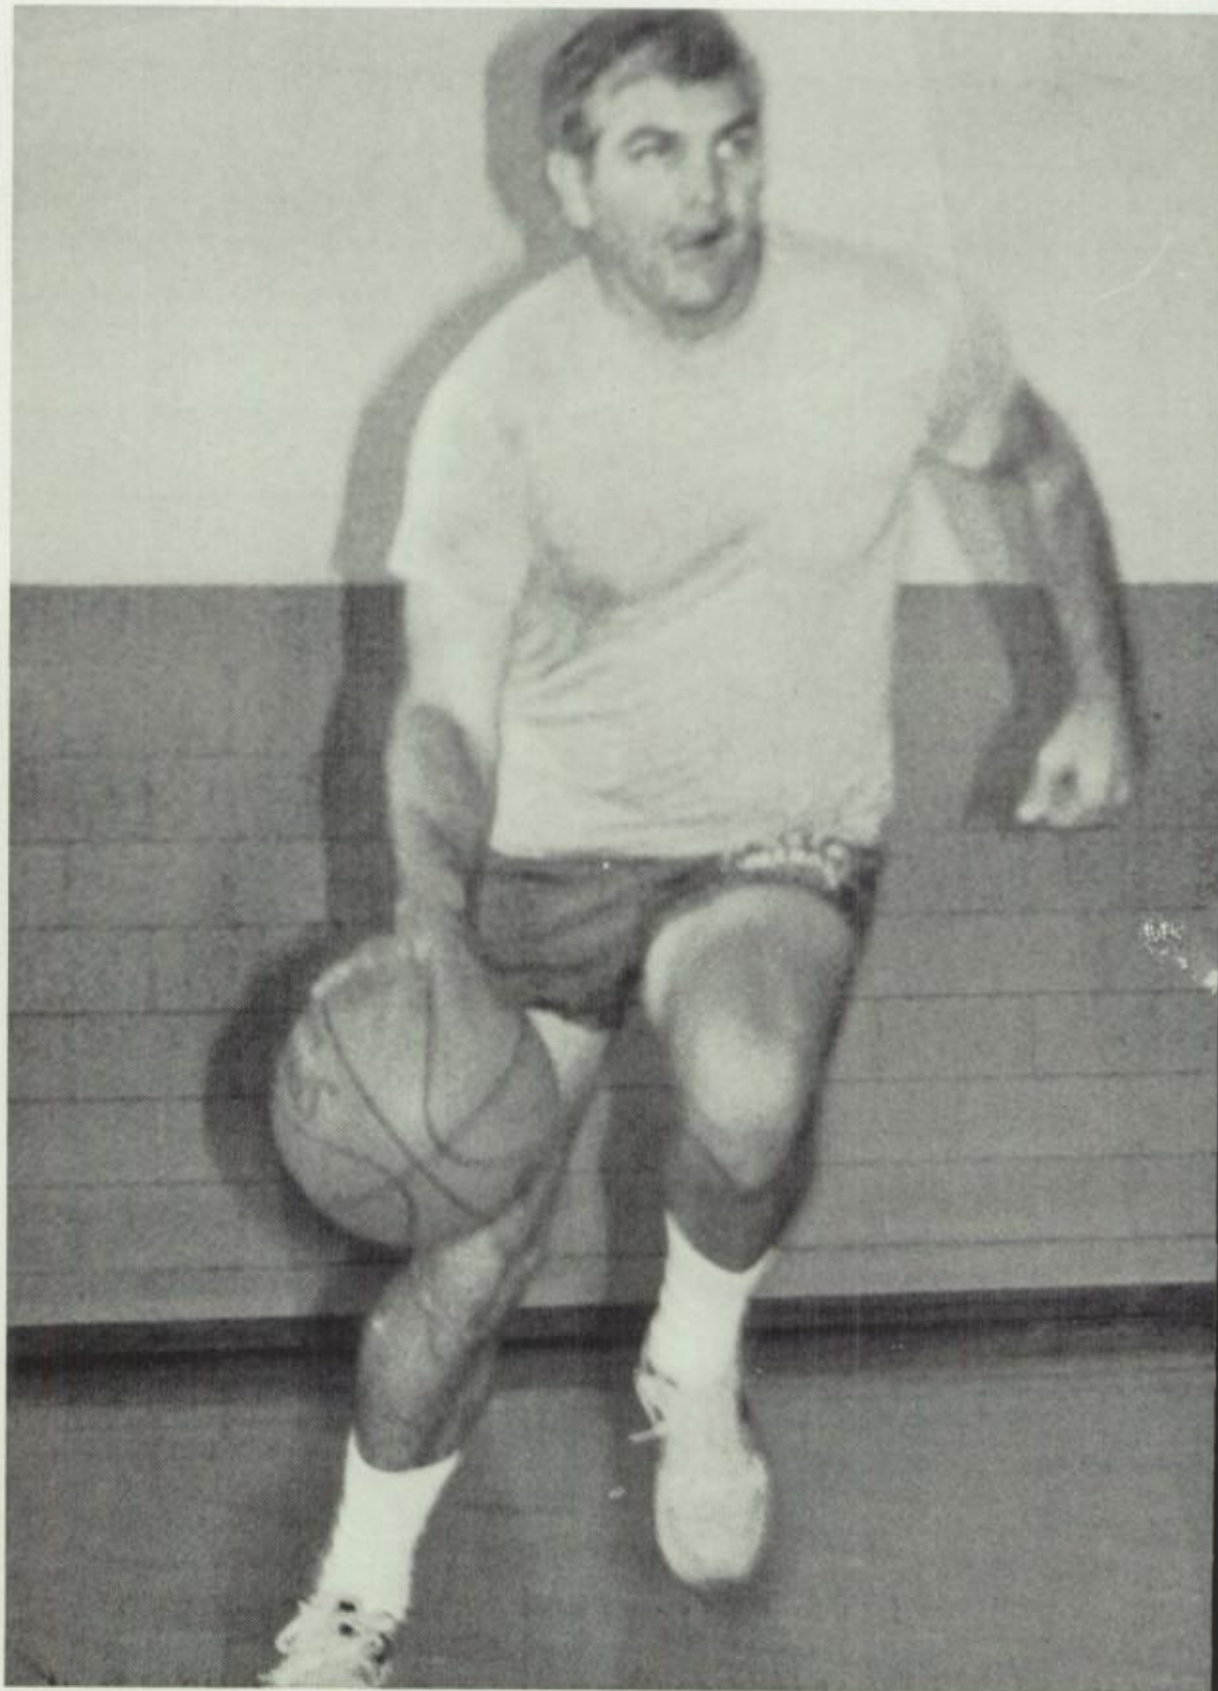

P.E. classes learn a variety of sports during the year. Some of their activities included softball, basketball, volleyball, track and bowling. Of course, the girls classes and the boys classes learn different things. The classes also learned basic tumbling on mats.

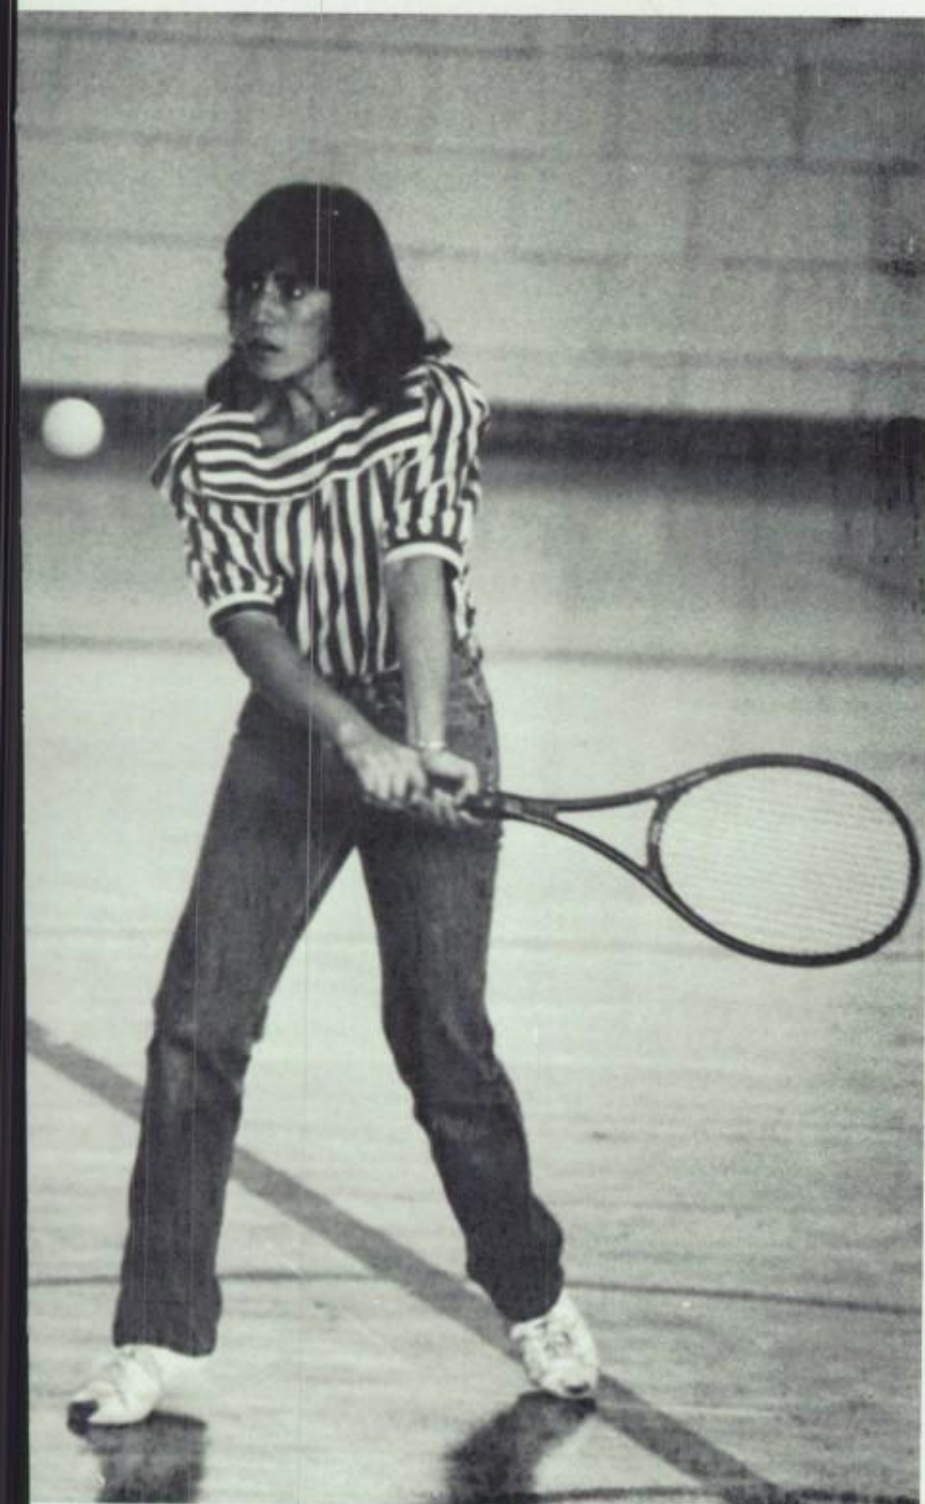

P.E. classes are generally taught by coaches; that way they can get better training in certain areas. The coaches are very active, besides coaching they also do things for fund raisers. They scheduled a basketball game against the San Antonio Police Department. They practiced and came out victorious. Another game for the coaches was a faculty volleyball game against the varsity volleyball team. The coaches took the first game, but the rest went to the girls.

P.E. students learn many different sports during class, but today they will learn some basic tumbling techniques.

Sophomore Yvonne Perales gets in some tennis practice in the gym on a rainy day.

Gymnastics coach Greg Goodhue seems to be determined to score against the SAPD. Despite his size, Goodhue was one of the leading scorers in the game.

The custodians not only keep the inside of school clean, but also do much of the gardening and keep the football field watered.

Busy People Maintain School

If you are looking for people around campus who put in long hours of hard work, you don't need to look any farther than the custodians and the cafeteria workers.

The custodians are at school long before the students arrive, and they remain after school hours are over. These men and women stay on campus during the summer months and keep the school in good shape.

If you think that you are going to go crazy cooking dinner for your family try cooking breakfast and lunch for over 2,000 students. Not easy, is it? The cafeteria workers do it every school day.

These men and women work hard. Next time you see one, tell them what a great job they are doing.

Whether they are collecting money or preparing meals for the students, these ladies work very hard.

Sports

Team Turns on the steam to break even

The Volunteer Varsity football team, looking to rebound from a disappointing season, surprised every one of its critics as it compiled a 5-5 record. After jumping out to a fast 3-0 start with victories over Edison (13-0), Clark (17-14), and Marshall (35-13), the thoughts of yet another district championship lingered in the air. These thoughts faded fast though, as the Vols won but two of their final seven games. They lost by identical 21-0 scores to Madison and eventual district and regional champion Judson. The following week however, they rebounded with a thrilling 17-14 victory over Clemens. The Vols won only one more game after that, a 24-0 thrashing of the MacArthur Brahmas. In the season finale against arch-rival Churchill, the Vols put up a good fight, but in the end, came up short as they were defeated 19-0.

The 5-5 season was not evident of how hard the Vols worked all season long under the direction of Roy Sawyer. This year's team was supposed to be one of the worst in the city. They proved the skeptics wrong though, as they were ranked in the city's top ten throughout the season. Jeff Hopkins and Brett Hernandez were named to the first team all-district squad, while Henry Davila, Geoff Westmoreland, Eric Teague, and Mario Valdez were named to the second team.

Eric Forrestier, Gerald Hernandez, and Chris Burkhalter jog off the field after a series of downs is completed.

J V Sends Message to Foes

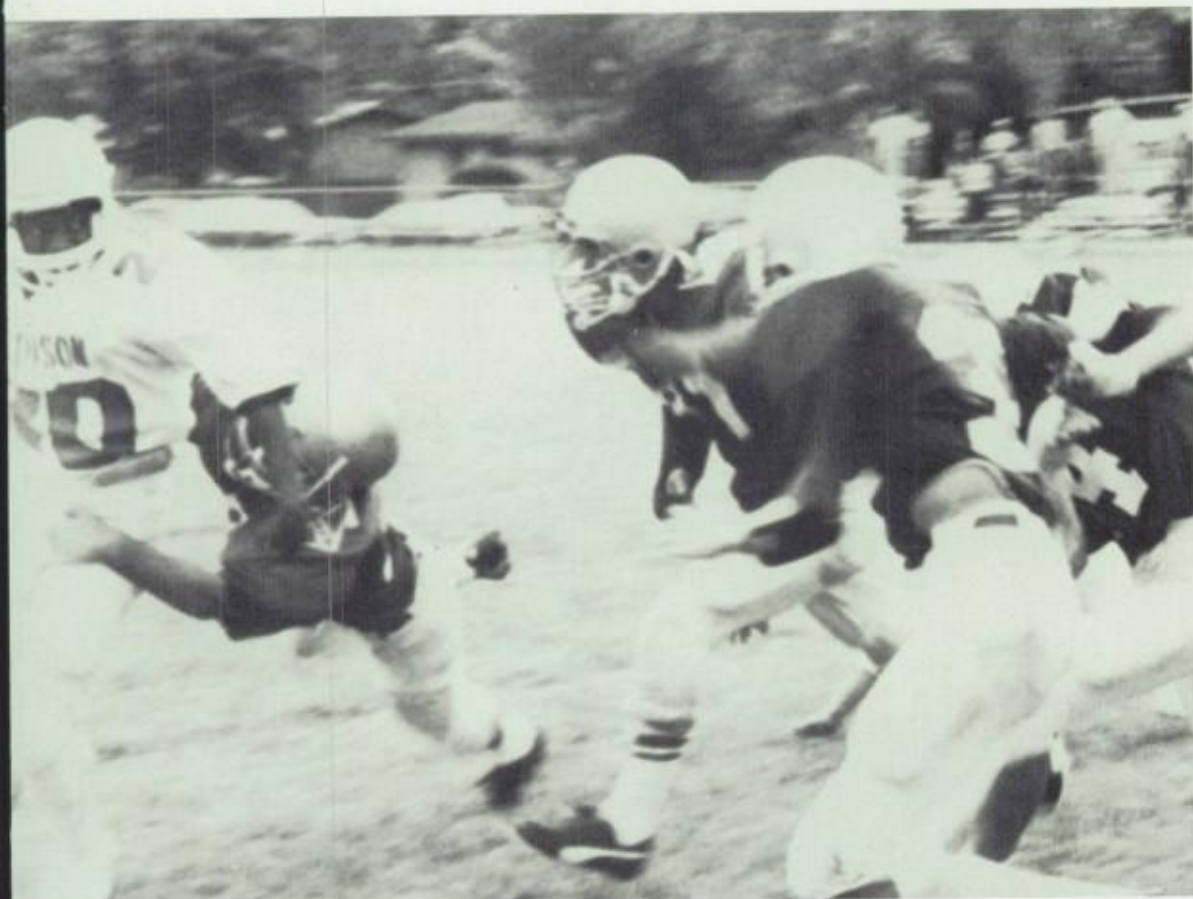

The Junior Varsity football team had a fairly successful season under the direction of vice principal-turned-coach Bobby Smith. They ended the season with a 4-4-2 record.

With newcomer Brent Crook directing them at quarterback, the Vols played hard and tough against Madison, Roosevelt, and Churchill, but came up short on all three counts. Against Judson however, the mighty Vols fought to a tie against the Rockets.

Helping out the Vols on offense were running backs Wolfie Pacheco and Greg Caruso, and split ends Gary Long and Eric Smith. On defense they were led by middle linebacker John Robalin.

Quarterback Brent Crook rolls around right end as he tries for extra yardage.

Teams Turn in Good Records

Both the Red and Grey football teams compiled winning records as they were under the direction of Coaches Doug Vollmer and Bruce Meller.

Some of the outstanding freshmen on the team were Barclay Anthony, Eric Stamp, and Mark Jacobs. Each year the freshmen are divided into two teams, a red and a grey. This year the red compiled a 4-4 record while the grey finished at 5-3.

With the experience that they received this year, next year should be an outstanding one of the junior varsity.

The Vols defense swarms on the Madison runner as he tries for extra yardage.

An unidentified Vol reaches for the pass as the Madison defender closed in.

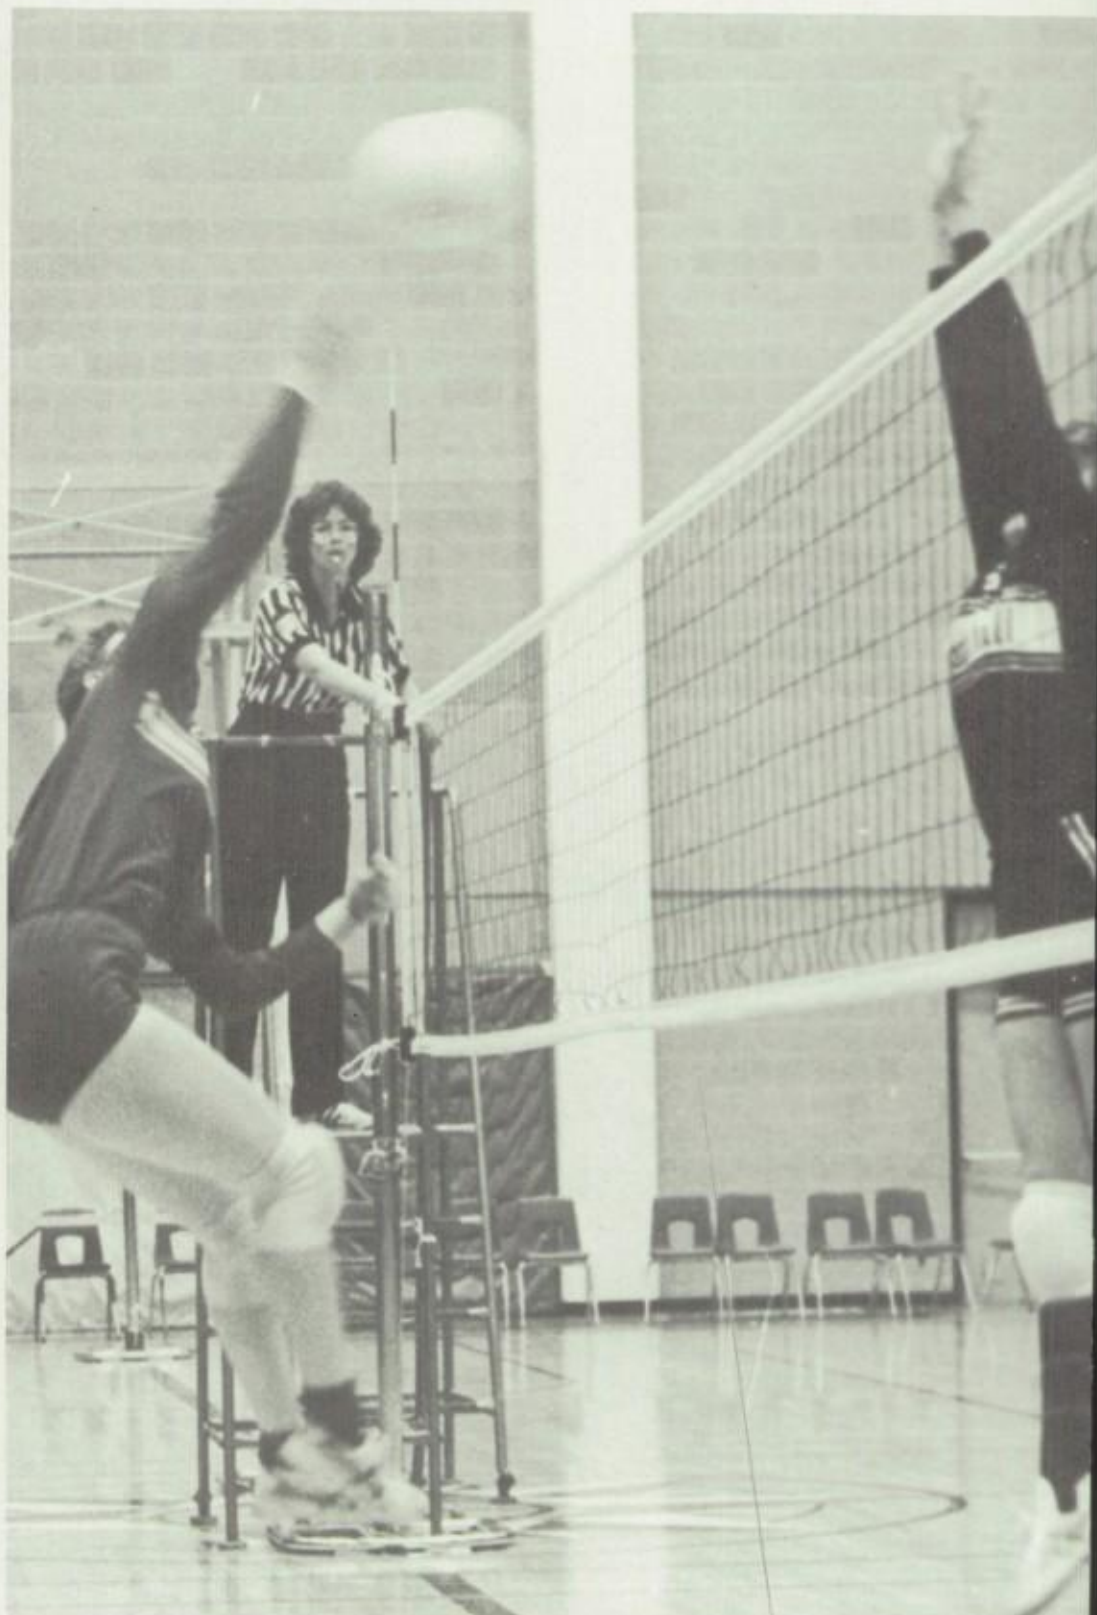

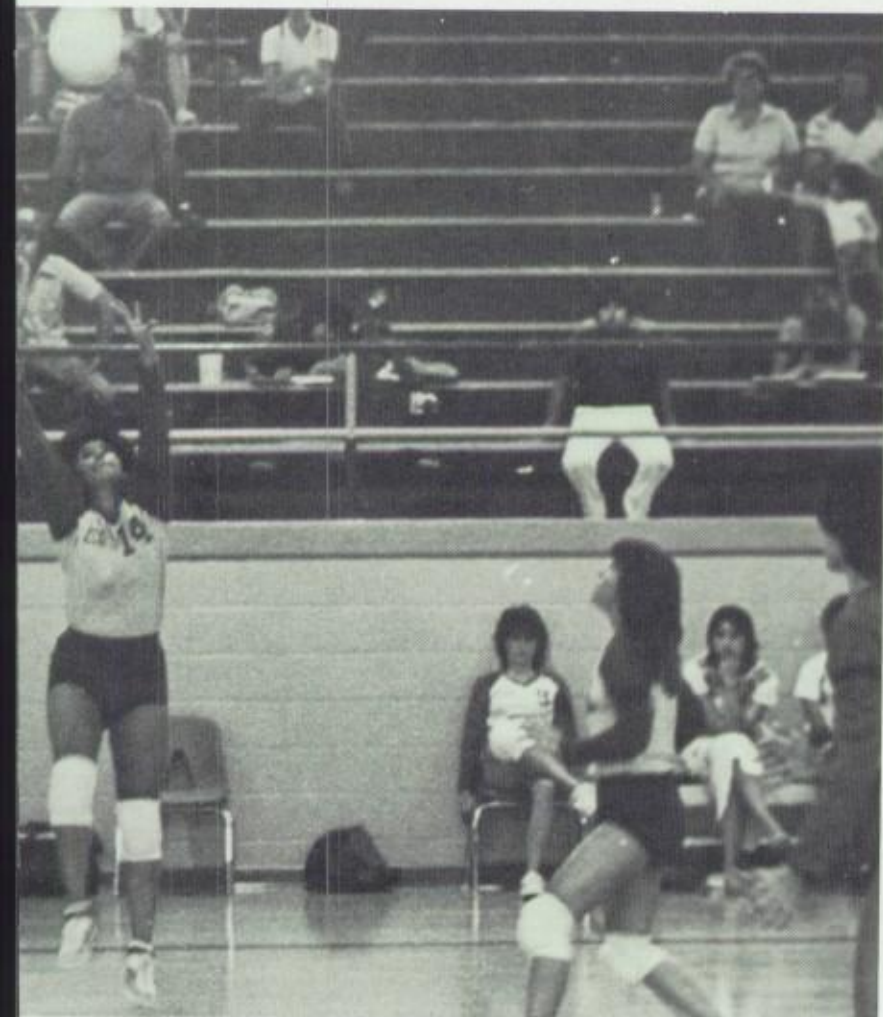

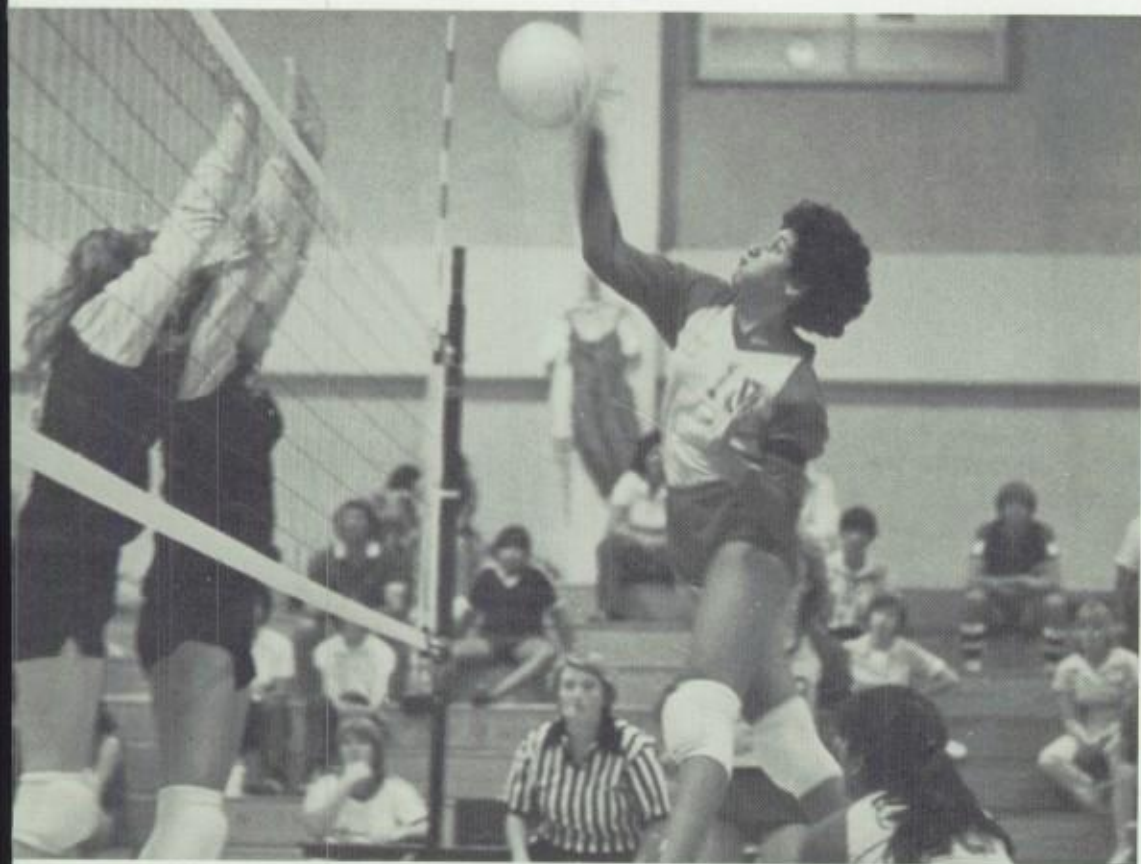

Besides playing many matches during the season, the volleyball team kicked off the year with a swimming party at Landa Park.

In October the girls attended the volleyball awards presentation at Coach Braue's parents' house.

Two events highlighted the spring for the volleyball team and their coach, Lupe Ruiz. The Senior-Faculty volleyball was April 15, and the senior volleyball trip to Astroworld was May 6-8.

Team officers were President Rhonda Hoffman, Vice President Vikki Engel, Secretary Dee Dee Noriega, Treasurer Rachel Hernandez and Historians Holly Heatly and Tammy Herron.

For the first season they played, the girl's soccer team had a great year as they advanced to the play-offs.

Girls Take District Crown

1983: the year that almost was.

The girl's basketball team was the city's best team, yet did not make it past regionals, because Victoria, who reached the state finals, stood in its way.

The Vols lost to the Stingarettes, defending state champions, in the second round of the playoffs 69-67 after leading by 12 points going into the fourth quarter. They were victimized by a charging call against Junior Pam Cox with 31 seconds left. Leading 67-63, Cox was knocked down three times, and when she passed to Michelle Acosta, her elbow came down on Amy Alkek's head.

This was the turning point of the game. "They went out there and physically whipped the defending state champions," Coach Don Evans said. "I couldn't be any more proud of them."

The loss concluded a 32-2 season, which set a team record in wins. The Vols breezed through district undefeated, also a team first.

The only other loss of the season was to Calallen, 4A state finalist on Dec. 31. The Vols lost in overtime, 56-53, as Cox scored 25 points.

Thirteen days prior to that loss, the Vols beat Jay in a game that determined city supremacy. The two undefeated teams met in the finals of the North East Tournament.

Kim Hilbrich scored 22 points to lead the Vols to a win, 60-51. Hilbrich, a senior transfer from Corpus Christi King, averaged 12.9 points and 5.7 rebounds a game.

Rhonda Hoffman, a senior guard, finished her high school career, averaging 12.3 points and 7.5 assists. In her three years, the team was 88-14.

Cox averaged 17.1 points and five rebounds per game. She and Hoffman were both named to the all-city and all-district first teams.

Hilbrich and senior forward Vicky Lewis also made all-district. The Vols beat their opponents statistically in field goal percentage, free throw percentage, total points, and they averaged 14 less turnovers per game.

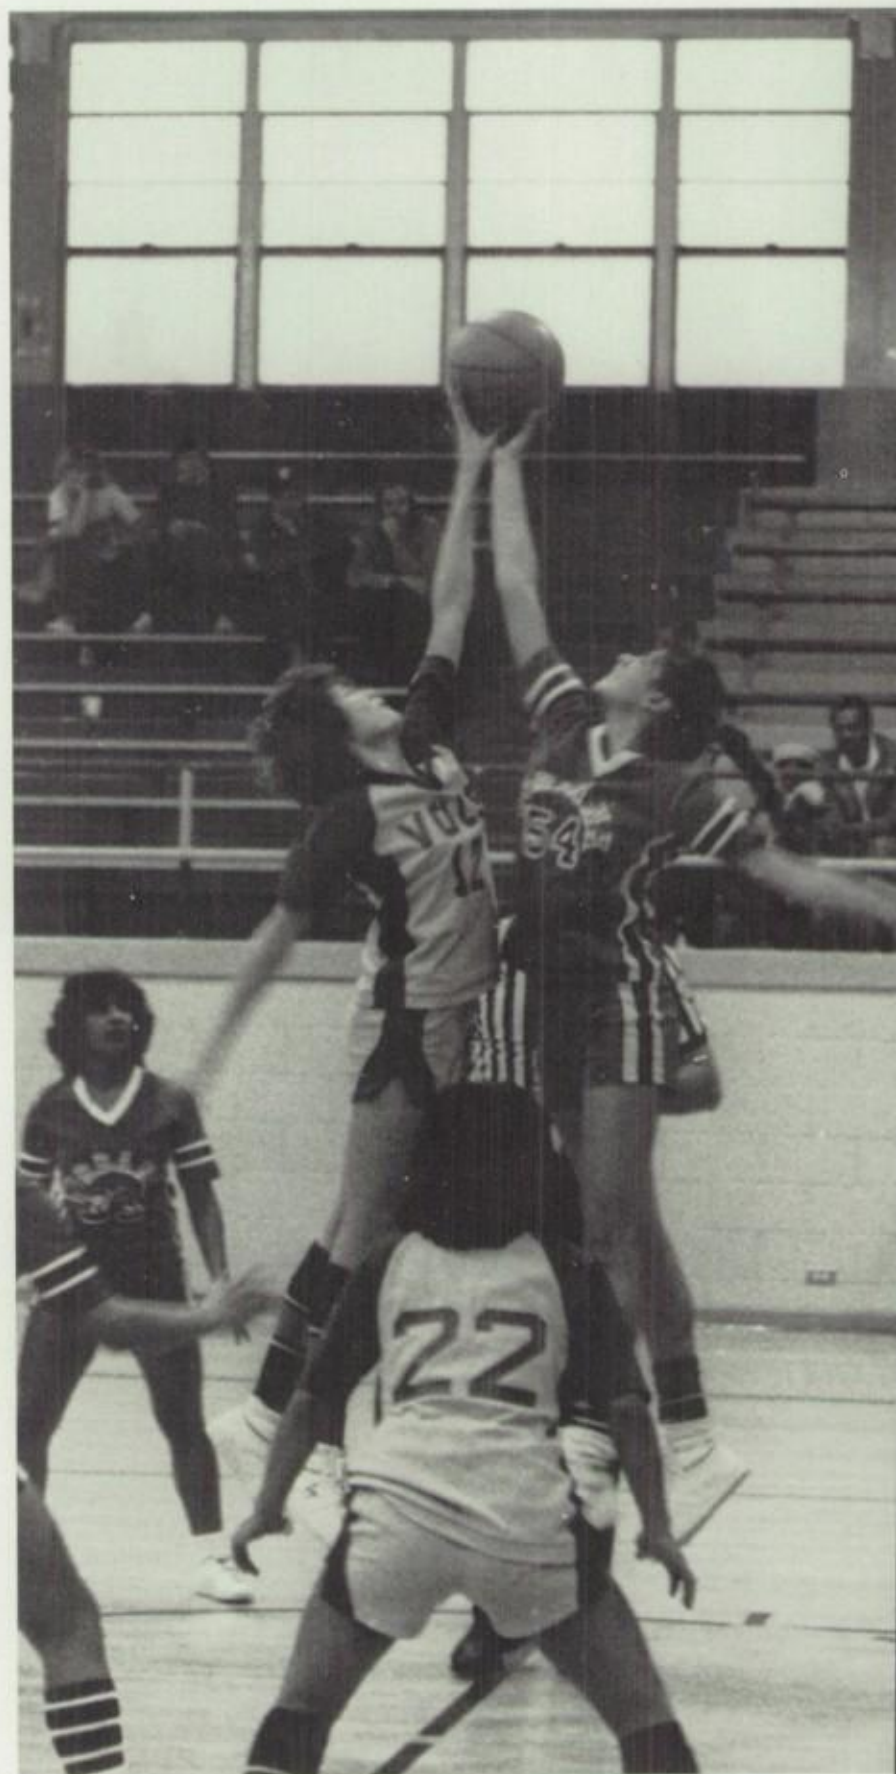

This team will not soon be forgotten.

Sophomore Monique Zamarippa puts up a baseline shot over her leaping defender as Pam Cox watches.

Monique Zamarippa controls the jump ball and directs it towards senior Vicki Lewis.

For an easy two points Kim Hilbrich breaks free for a layup. Kim was signed to an athletic scholarship to Baylor.

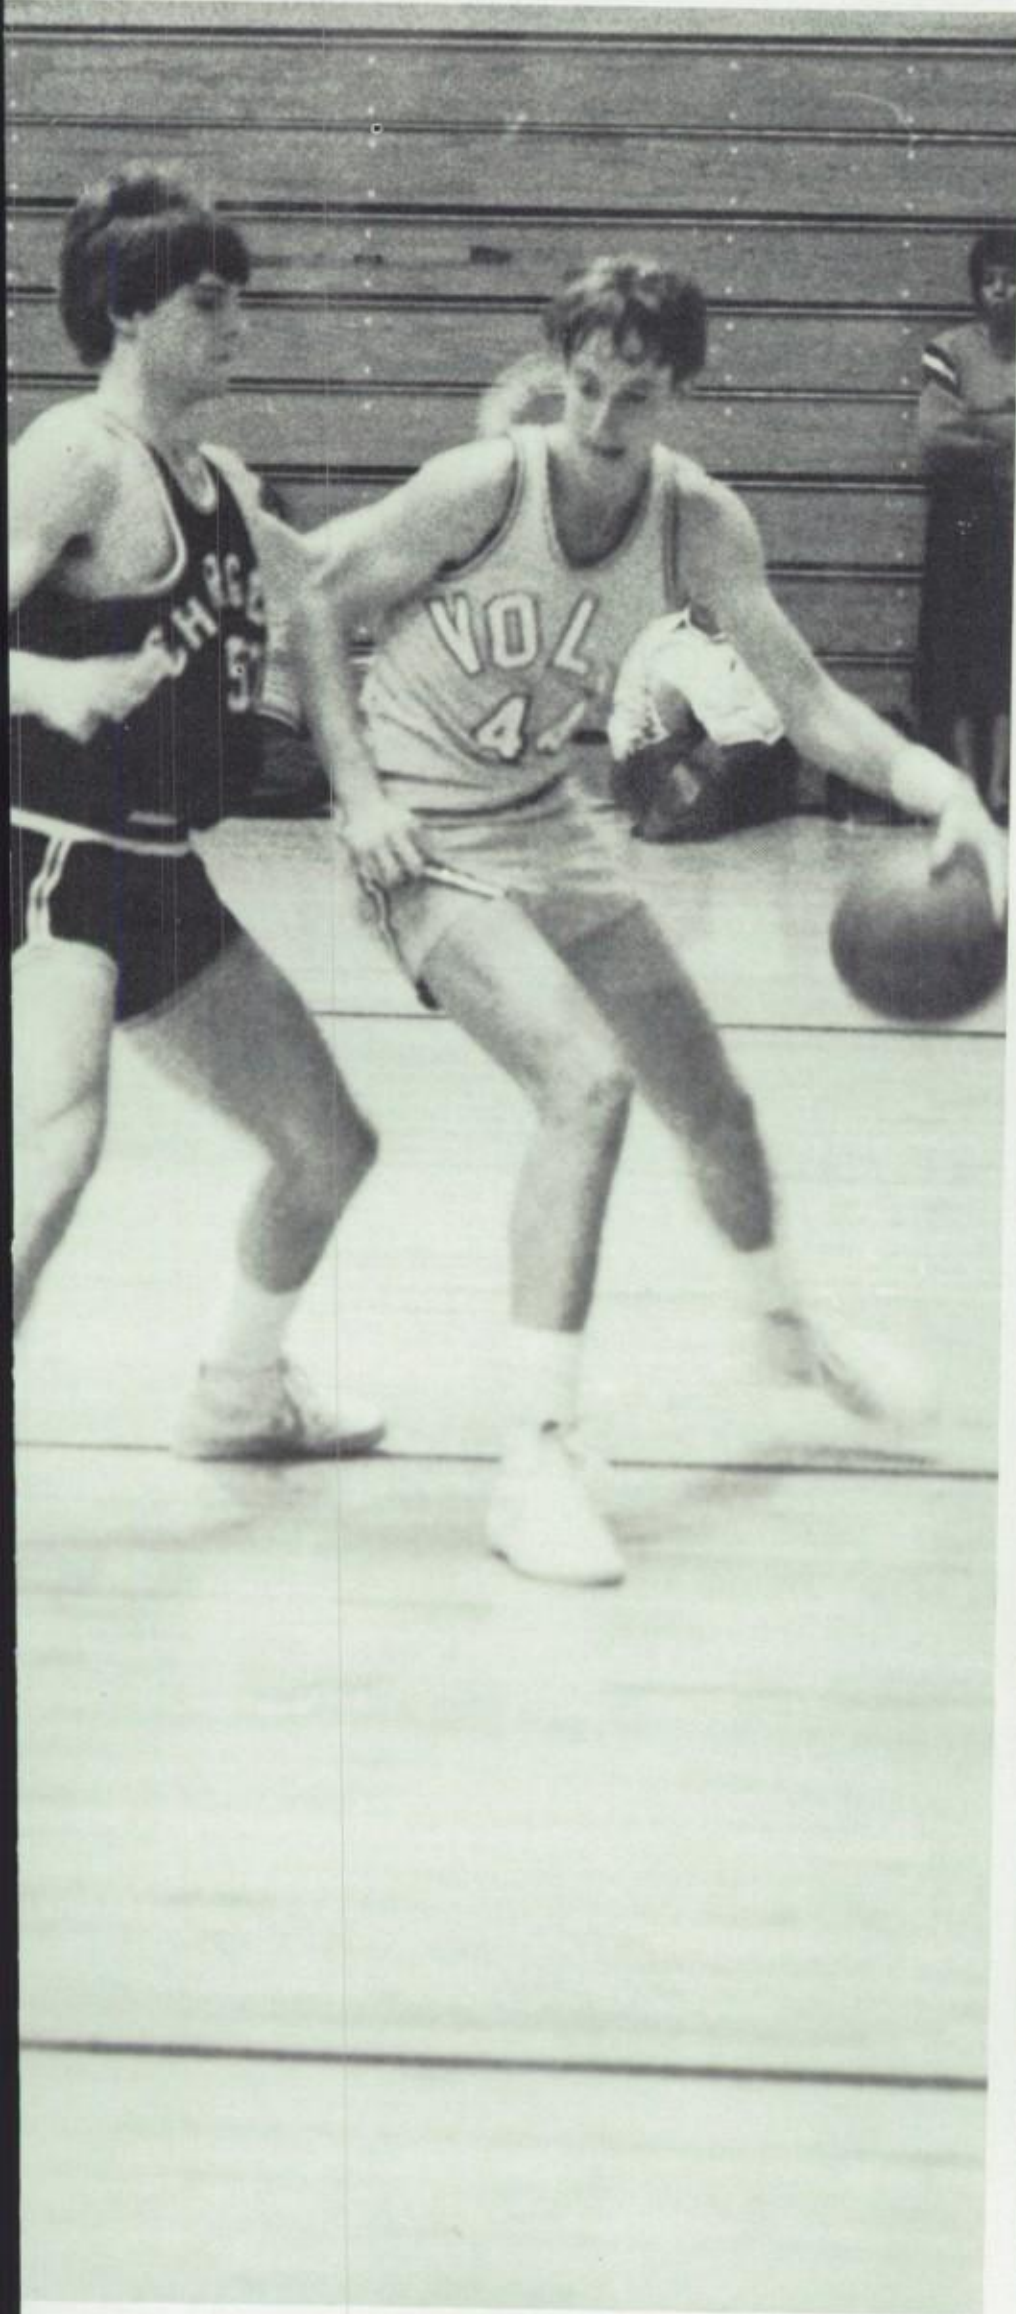

Tough jump shots were easily overcome shown here by Rhonda Hoffman.

Team Takes to Water

Ending with a third place finish in the district championship meet, the swimming team had a successful year.

Besides sending a swimmer to the state championship meet, the boy's team went undefeated in "B" League, comprised of Lee, Holmes, Madison, Jay and Alamo Heights.

With only 14 swimmers and one diver, the team defeated many other opponents that had twice as many team members.

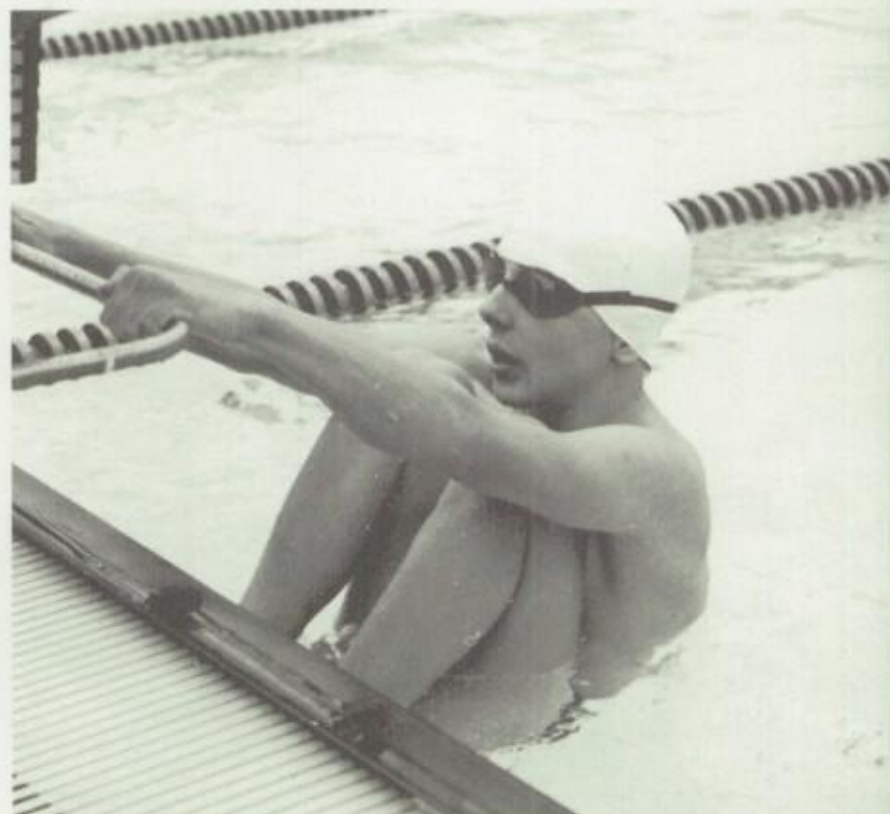

Starring at regionals was Senior Chris Lucas who placed fourth in the 100 yard freestyle and set a school record of 48.9 seconds. This seeded Chris twelfth in the state meet.

Amazingly, Lucas did not qualify for state in his best event, the 200 yard freestyle. Even more ironic was the fact that he was only two-tenths of a second from qualifying as a junior.

Three other school records were established by other members. The 200 medley relay team of Rob Baber, Jon Bennette, David Walden and Todd Ribera went a time of 1:47.0 to set the record. Diver Shana Jones scored a school record with 347 points in regional diving competition and finished sixth.

In finishing seventh, the 400 free relay of Lucas, Ribera, Bill Schlattner, and Baber swam a 3:24.5, taking four seconds off the former school record. At state competition, Lucas lowered his time in the 100 free to 48.0 seconds, breaking his own record for the fourth time. He finished thirteenth, one place out of the finals.

Even though only one swimmer qualified for state, Coach Jim Yates was pleased with the regional results. "Everyone had their best times."

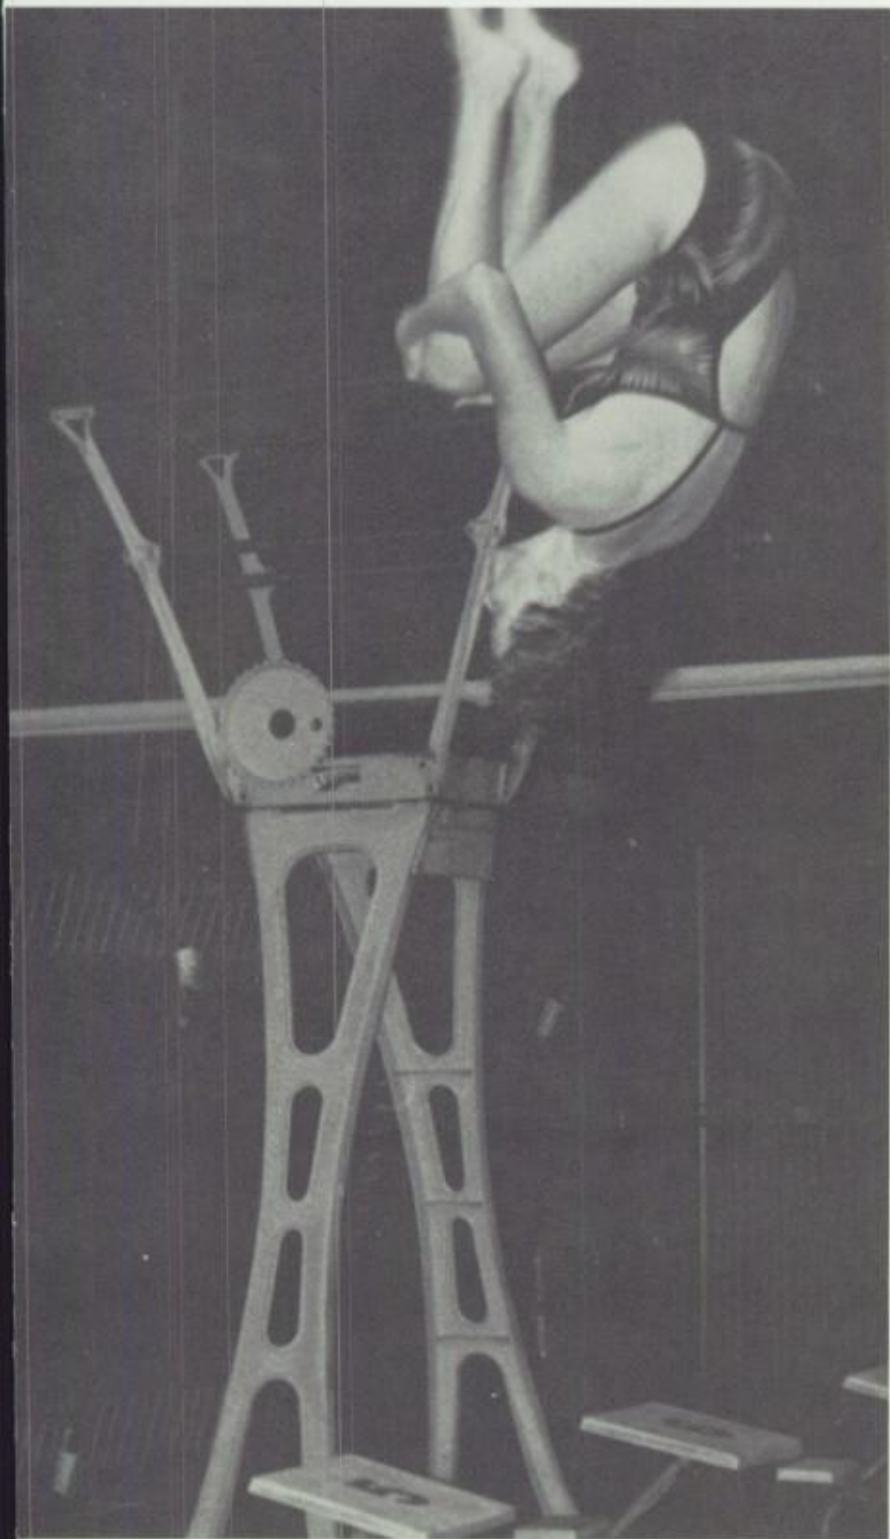

Satisfied by his performance in the 200 yard freestyle, Junior Bill Schlattner takes a breather.

Team Starts Strong, Finishes Near .500

The 1983 Volunteer Varsity baseball team, looking to repeat as strong district contenders from the year before, got off to a great start as they posted wins over Holmes (9-4) and Clark (15-1).

According to Coach Wes Skidmore, the team was supposed to be inexperienced. After their first two wins though, they certainly did not look like an inexperienced team.

The Vols opened up against Burbank in the North Loop Tournament. Burbank, who was rated number two in the city, fought off a desperate rally by the Vols and pulled out a 4-2 victory. Due to heavy rains, the remainder of the tournament was postponed.

Following consecutive losses to Marshall (5-2) and Highlands (2-1), the Vols opened up against the Fox Tech Buffaloes in the San Antonio Independent School District Tournament. The Vols racked up 14 runs in one inning, in route to a 20-7 victory.

Against the number one ranked Jeff Mustangs, the mighty Vols played super ball as they tied the Mustangs 1-1. The Mustangs advanced to the championship game of the tournament as the result of winning the coin flip. In the race for second place, the Vols hooked horns with the Burbank Bulldogs once again. The Vols battled desperately, but fell once again by a score of 8-4.

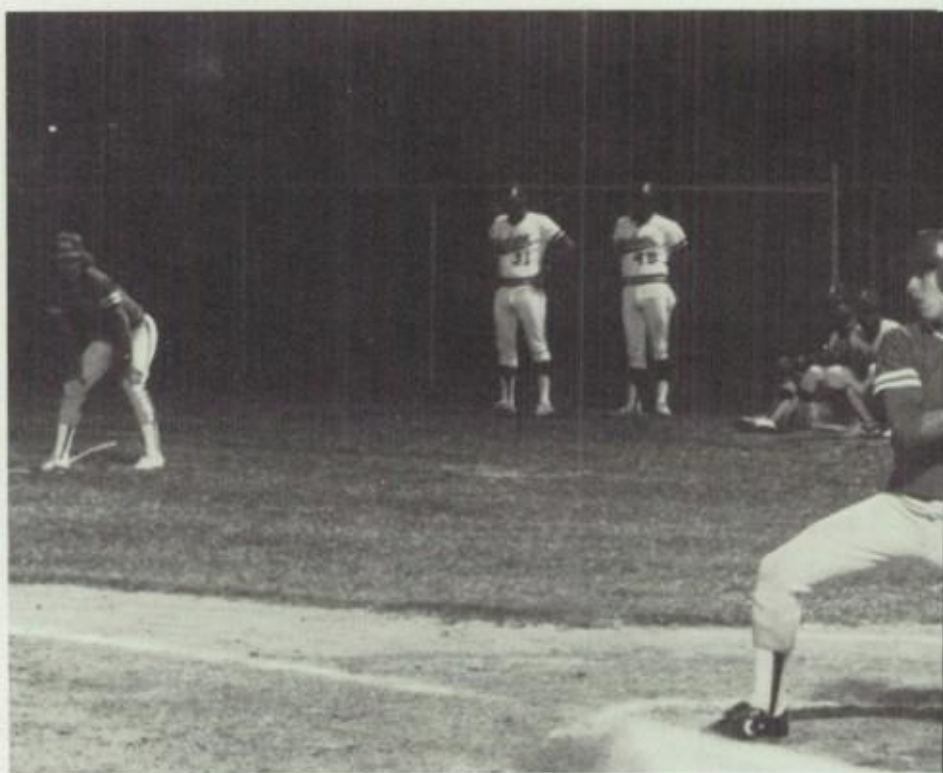

Going into district play on a rather sour note, the Vols lost a heartbreaker in the opening game against Clemens by a 2-0 score. At this point in the season, the Vols had one of the best pitching staffs in the district, with Mike Jacobs, Eric Forestier, and Mario Valdez.

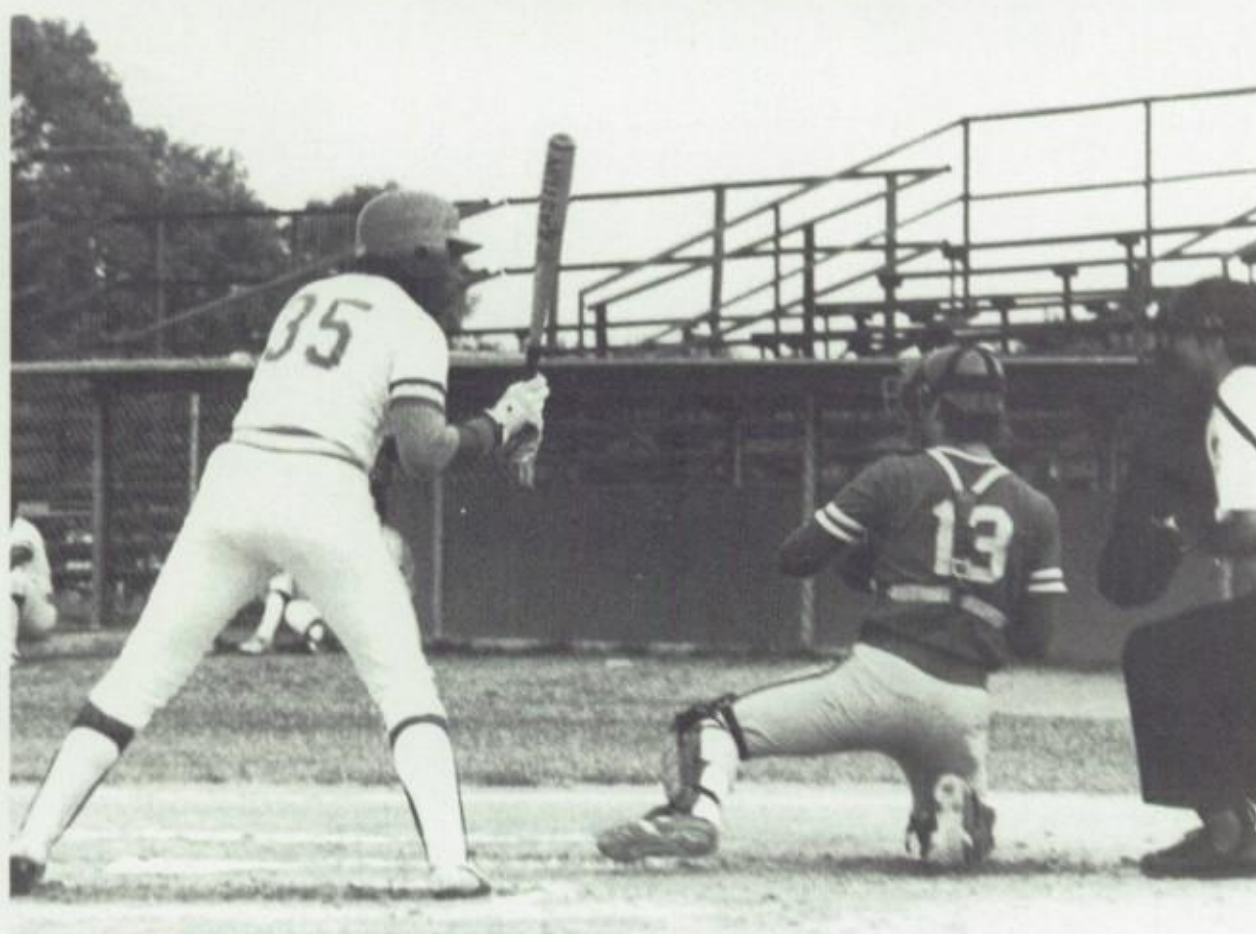

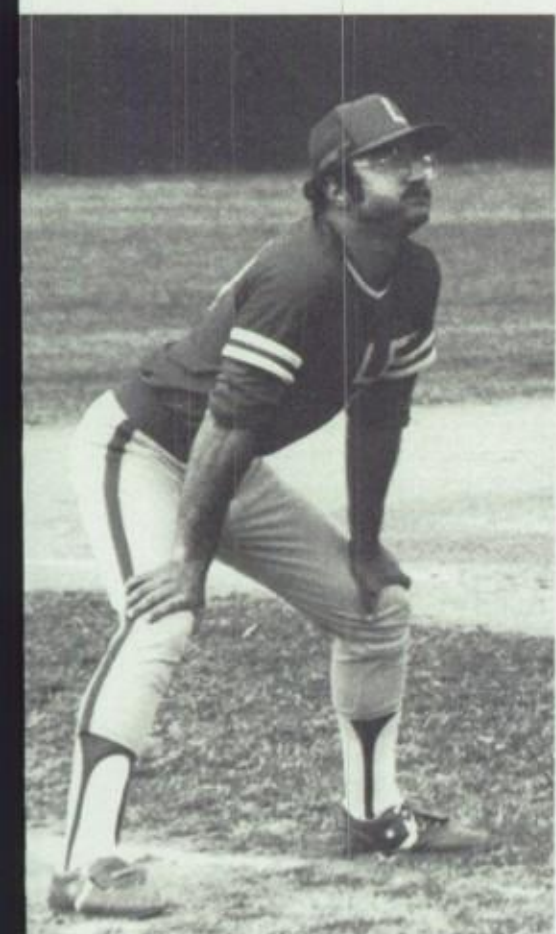

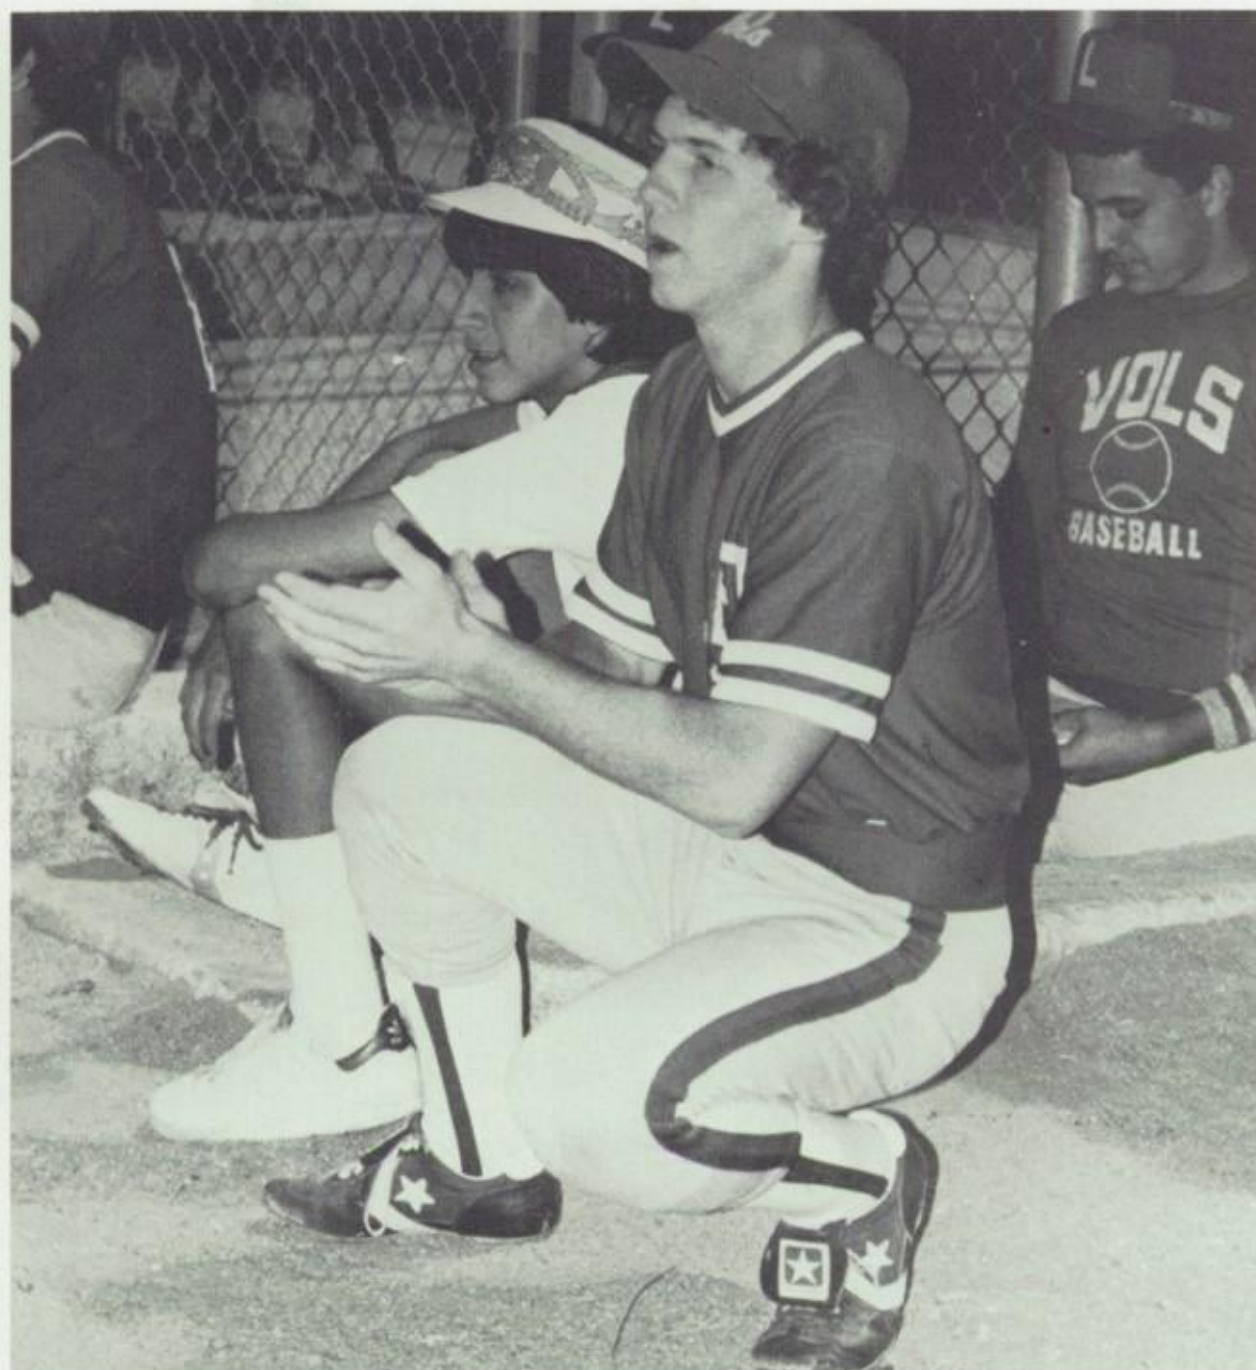

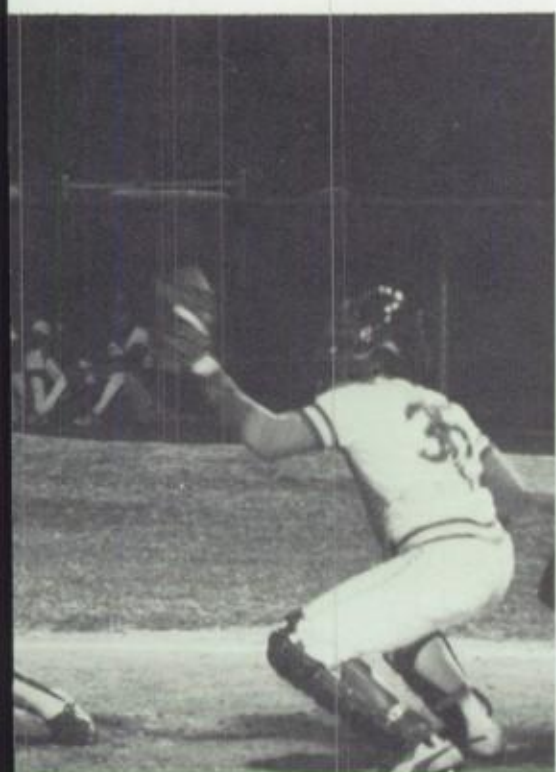

The Vols finished the first half of district play at 2-5. The brightest moment of the first half came when the Vols defeated arch-rival Churchill, 6-3. The second half of district began on a bad note as the Clemens Buffaloes defeated the Vols once again, this time in extra innings by an 8-7 score. Against MacArthur, the Vols played super as they posted a 3-2 victory.

In the season finale against Judson, who was ranked number two in the city, the Vols played well behind the pitching of Mike Jacobs, and pulled out a 3-0 victory.

The Vols finished the season at 10-11-1. They barely missed a ranking in the top ten. Alan Long, James Nester, Mario Valdez, and Albert Molina were some of the major contributors to the team's success.

At the conclusion of the season, Alan Long, Mike Jacobs, and Albert Molina were named to the All-district team.

Spirit of Classes Rings Around Lee

Clubs

Student Council

Council President Tim Greene listens to bus during fifth period meeting time with sponsor Matteson.

Student Council representatives hold bunches of balloons to be sold at a pep rally.

Kathy Hunt receives an award from Principal Bill Evans for her numerous contributions during her student career at Lee.

Kathy and Karen Hunt hope to sell all the balloons as they prepare to sing the school song.

One of the most popular events on campus is the Halloween costume contest. Here a student has a "devil" of a good time.

Informality is the key to successful communicating for these council members.

A reason to celebrate is the arrival of Lee's foreign exchange student from France, Nathalie Bellevin, far right.

Coming together for a day of food and fun at Volsfest are AFS members and foreign exchange students from other area schools.

As photographer Tricia Buchhorn covers the welcoming party for Nathalie, AFS members enjoy the refreshments.

AFS, Auto Mechanics

Band

Loud trumpets roared through the cheering crowd as rebel flags waved to the tune of Dixie. After endless hours of practice, the band members got to show their stuff — and that's exactly what they did in front of the UIL Marching and Sight Reading judges. They won Sweepstakes and attended the state contest in Austin.

Three band members were named for the all state band. They were Gary Sandler, Wayne Baze and Winston Meeker.

Along with the Band Director Alfred Esquivel and Assistant Band Director Kent Grist, the band marched in the Battle of Flowers Parade, the Rey Feo parade and also played the opening night of La Semana Alegre.

This year's Drum Major was Tonia Saenz. She was assisted by Joel Schweers and the officers President Brenda Dawson, Vice President Pam Murnin, Secretary Sandra Garza, Treasurer Sandy Miranda, Librarian Peggy Myers and Kim Slavin, and Quarter Master Joel Schweers. The aerialist was Darla Garrahan and twirlers were Kim Hill and Debbie Jones.

After moving to permanent quarters in the Vocational Building, the Commercial Art classes set up shop. Alejandro Perez personalizes the classroom door with a special logo.

Pablo Aguiar and Chet Smith operate the process camera in graphics production work.

Commercial Art

One commercial art student, under the guidance of teacher Chris Richardson, had artwork advance after winning a gold key first place award at state competition in Austin.

Denise Nelison, a third year commercial art student, drew a circus clown as her prize winning project.

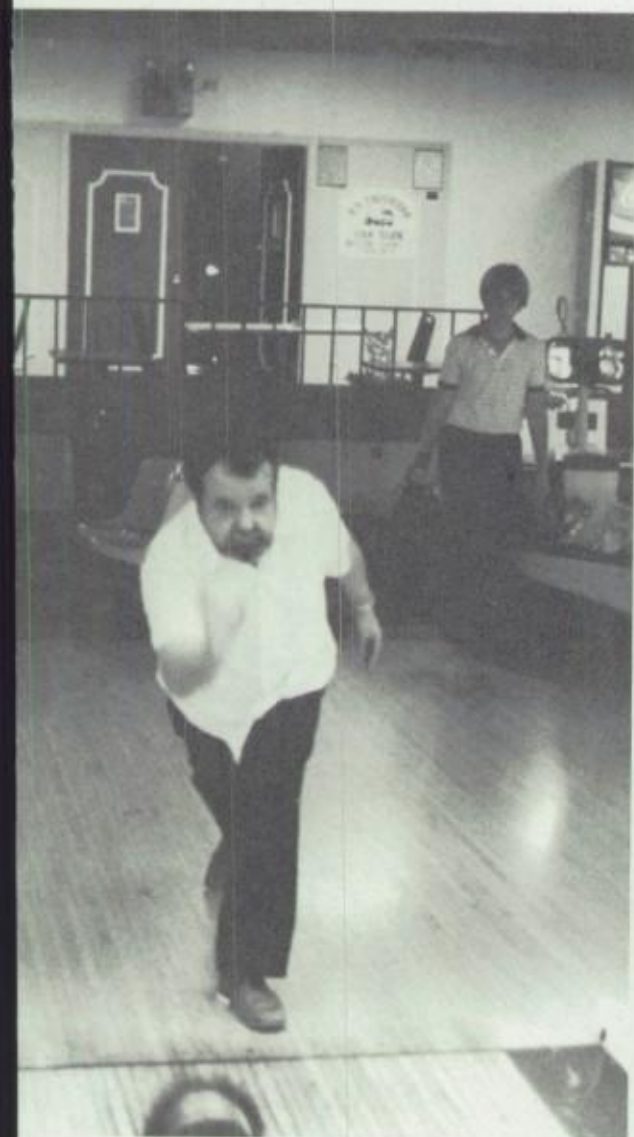

Commercial art classes extend over a three-period session in order for students to finish their projects.

Bowling

an teacher, Bob Inman spends an afternoon getting a few games with the Bowling Club.

Curt Brannen, one of the city's top young bowlers, keeps score at a weekly bowling session at Bowlerama.

Choir

The 1982-83 school year was full of concerts and contests for the Choral Department.

The Lee choirs, under the direction of Jim Sheppard, competed in the UIL Concert and Sightreading Competition, held at Trinity University.

The Concert Choir was one of only two choirs to receive Division I Ranking (Superior) from every judge at the contest, giving the choir its fifth consecutive Sweepstakes Award. The Men of Lee and Girls' Choir I were given a Superior Rating in concert and an Excellent Rating in sightreading. Girls' Choir II was rated as excellent in both concert and sightreading.

Members of the department also competed individually as they tried for a spot in the Texas Music Educator's Association choirs. Twenty-two Lee singers were recognized as All-District Choir members by the TMEA.

Sixteen of the 22 placed in the All-Region Choir with six being named as All-Area Choir members. Seniors Christa Griffith and Frank Ayala made it all the way to the All-State Choir.

In addition to competing, the Choral Department presented numerous concerts throughout the year, including the special Christmas presentation of the opera "Amahl and the Night Visitors."

One of the year's highlights was performing the world premiere of "The Spirit of Creation" written for and dedicated to the Concert Choir and the McCallum High School Choir of Austin by Dallas composer Dede Duseon. This was the third consecutive year the Concert Choir performed the world premiere of a song written for the choir.

Choir members spent time together out of school, too. From the department's day-long picnic at Stinky Falls in New Braunfels to the First Annual Choir Easter Egg Hunt, the singers formed their own "home away from home."

Senior Maria Barrera concentrates on her dancing during the Choral Department's Christmas production of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" at Dellview Baptist Church.

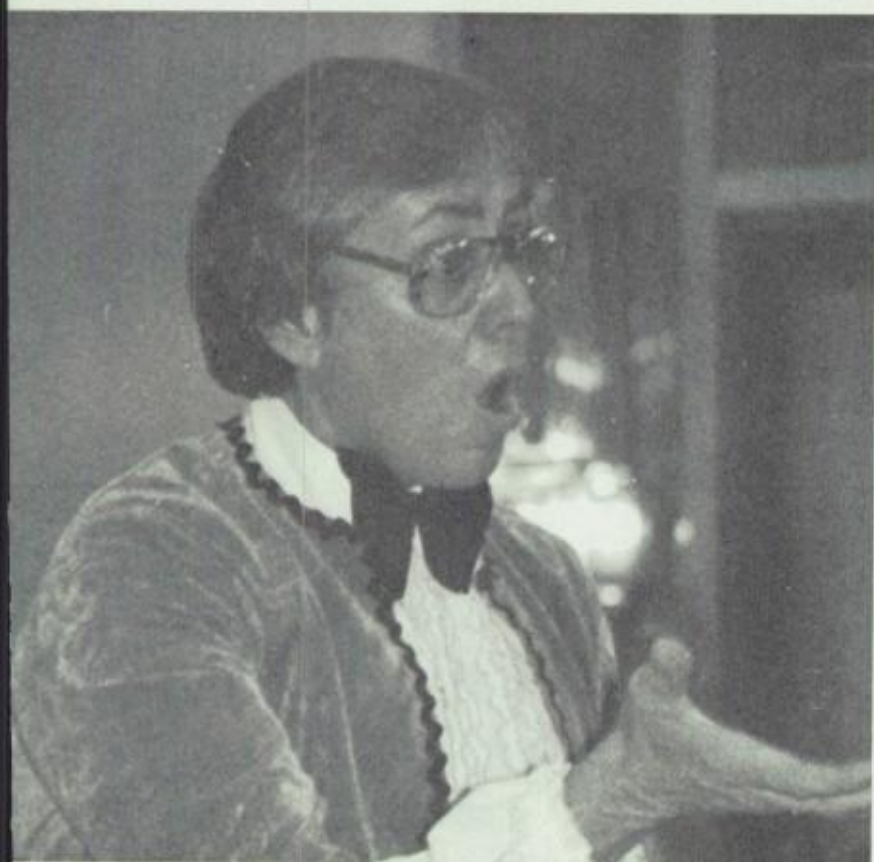

Taking time-out from their fun-filled day at a department picnic at Stinky Falls are Christa Griffith, Robert Walker, Roger VanDen Berghe, Terry Caruth, Lane Beauchamp, and Dana Hawthorne.

Stopping along the River Walk to pose for a final group picture are some of the members of the Concert Choir and the McCallum High School Choir of Austin.

Directing the Madrigal Singers at one of their many concerts during the Christmas season is Mr. Jim Sheppard.

Lee's Distributive Education Clubs of America had a busy year. DECA II sold Frito pie at their new booth at Volsfest after their previously used booth was mistakenly thrown away.

In March a delegation participated in the Free Enterprise seminar at Blossom Student Center. Mayor Henry Cisneros was the keynote speaker.

A highlight of the year was the opening of the new school store.

More products and services were made available to the Lee Community.

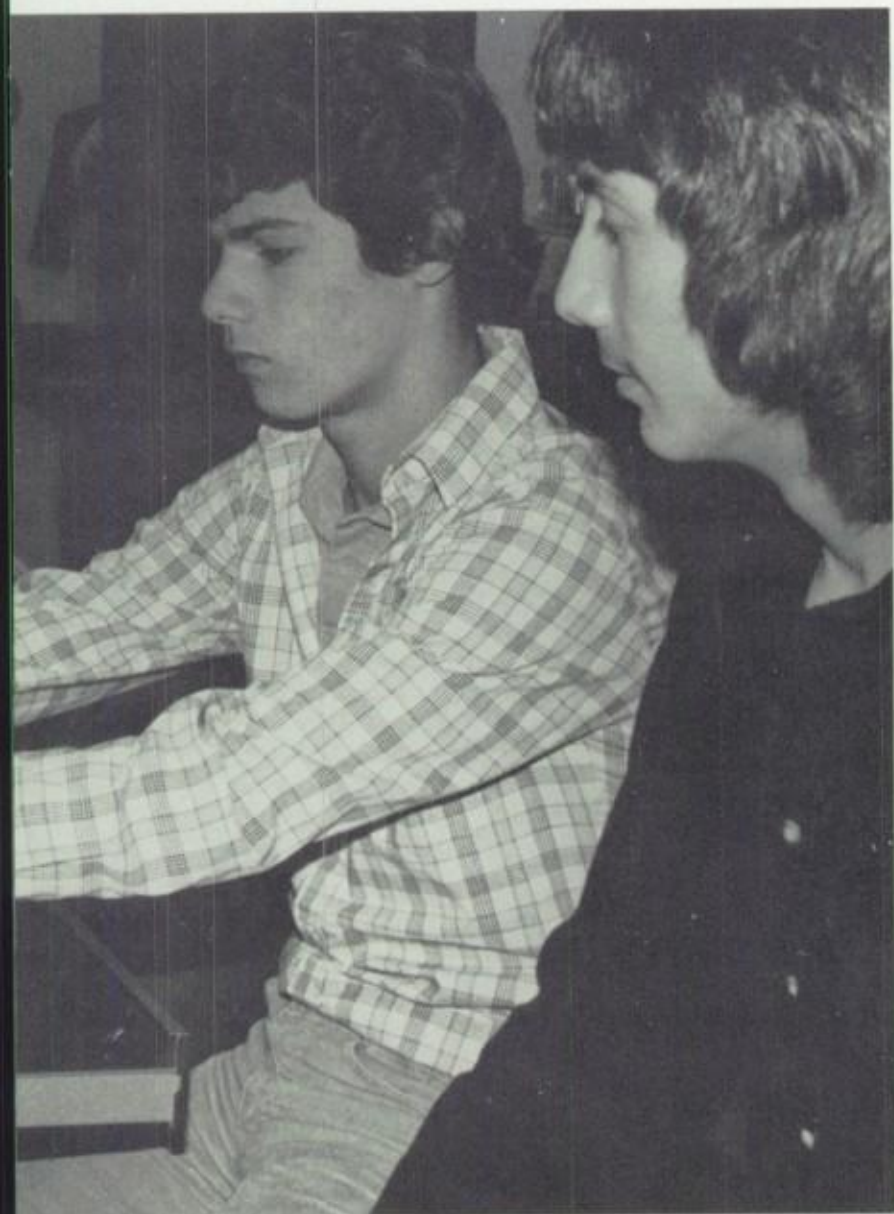

Celebrities Mario Bosquez and Peggy Kokernot from "PM Magazine" used the school store for fill-in scenes on a March episode. The crew filmed the show while DE students went about their duties in the store.

Soler, Smith Shine at State

The Drama Department has always been one to combine creativity with hard work. This year has proved to be no different. As in the past, the department puts on a wide variety of plays. This year's include: "The Hobbit," "The Madwoman of Chaillot" and various mime activities.

The highpoint of the year, however, was the spring production of "West Side Story." Large musical productions such as this only take place every other year. This play proved to be as successful, if not more, as past musical productions.

Speech tournaments also played a large part in the activities. Members of the interp. squad attempted to qualify for State Competition. Ivette Soler and John Smith qualified early in the year and after winning numerous trophies at local tournaments strove on to a victory at State Competition in Waco. They walked away with a first place trophy in duet acting, and once again they proved that hard work and creativity make an excellent recipe for victory.

FBLA, FHA-HERO

Future Business Leaders of America had 63 members and was sponsored by Mr. Kirk Karpienski.

During football season FBLA sponsored a mum sale in order to raise funds for some members to attend the state convention. The club also sold candy to raise money.

Student attended the district meeting at Roosevelt in February and the state convention in Fort Worth.

Linda Crabtree placed fourth in Shorthand I and Barbara Eberhardt placed fourth in job description manual.

A highlight of FBLA's year was the banquet at The Barn Door Restaurant.

Hundreds of students were involved in FHA/HERO activities.

Among events were monthly meetings that featured programs such as Flaming Desserts, Youth Against Cancer, Coping versus Coping Out, Hairstyling, Healthy Babies, Careers in Home Economics and Mystery Chef. Special projects included a luau, the Ptomaine Tussel and Volsfest booth.

Not satisfied to remain self-contained, FHA/HERO students participated in many service projects. The faculty breakfast, the Christmas tree in the Main Hall and an Easter Party for Sunshine Cottage were a few of these projects.

Traveling was also on the agenda as students attended an Area V meeting in Austin and the state meeting in Dallas.

Senior Heidi Zook served as campus president for FHA/HERO. Two Lee students will serve as Area VII officers. Barbara Valadez will be vice president of public relations and Christy Kyser will be corresponding secretary.

Future Homemakers of America

Home Economics Cooperative Education was sponsored by Harriet Becker and Teresa Longoria. President was Lisa Payne.

A fajita stand at Volsfest and a mum sale were moneymaking projects. Other activities included a polygraph demonstration, a drive to help a needy family at Thanksgiving and an Employer Appreciation banquet at the Fiesta Dinner Theatre.

One of the largest departments in the elective area, home economics has a large faculty. Other teachers are Jean Pearson, Susan Mankus, Joyce Marshall, Jacque Christal, Terry Wiemers and Maple Cowan.

French Club

Quiche, crepes and creme puffs filled the stomachs of many students during the numerous culture days held throughout the year for French students.

The students, many of whom belong to the French Club, did more than just eat. In class, they learned about the French culture and its customs and, of course, how to speak the romantic language.

Club members also enjoyed numerous other activities outside of school. From the quiche party in October, to Mardi Gras — Robert E. Lee style to the end-of-the-year banquet, French Club members kept busy.

The club members also did a lot more than just party. They prepared a Quiche Booth for Volsfest, where also the Can Can Girls performed. They had a week-long bake sale, sold carnations at Christ and helped sell programs at the Battle of Flowers Parade.

All this hard work paid off for ten lucky students who got to travel to the French Quarter of New Orleans with Sponsor Paula Guerard.

French Club officers for the school year were Adam Lampert, president; Delia Jimenez, vice-president I; Lane Beauchamp, vice-president II; Jill Jacobson, treasurer; Rhonda Bonnette, recording secretary; Courtney Wulfe, corresponding secretary and Dorothy Lippert, historian.

Dawn Waldron, senior, shows off a drawing done of her by an artist in New Orleans. Waldron was one of ten French students who traveled there in April.

German Club

German Club, co-sponsored by Mrs. Sue Weber and Mr. Bob Inman, had a variety of activities.

In November, German classes boarded buses to New Braunfels' annual Wurstfest celebration. In December, St. Nikolaus surprised students with treats. Also in December, the club celebrated Christmas with a party.

Competition of all kinds was in February for German students at Sprachfest at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos. Some students competed at the state level contest in March in Austin.

To round out the year, the club had its banquet May 5.

Journalism

Working non-stop to meet their numerous deadlines, the Bugle Call staff was able to publish ten issues of the award-winning newspaper and the yearbook staff completed the Silver Anniversary edition of the Traveler.

The new, modernistic style used in the theme sections of the yearbook was adapted by Yearbook Editor Leigh Ann Hood and adviser Lucella Whatley from a specialty catalog.

The Bugle Call, under the leadership of Senior Editor Connie Neathery and Whatley, was awarded a First Place Rating from both the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York and Sigma Delta Chi, a national honorary journalism fraternity. The newspaper was also given the Distinguished Merit Award from the Interscholastic League Press Conference in Austin.

Staff members from both the yearbook and the newspaper attended workshops in Austin, Houston and Denton, Texas. Seniors Neathery and Christine Postolos and Juniors Lane Beauchamp and Kurt Myers, accompanied by Whatley, also attended conferences at Columbia University in New York City, in March, which explored the First Amendment and how it relates to high school journalists. There they heard CBS correspondent Fred Graham.

Dixie Drillers, Confederettes

The 1982-1983 Dixie Drillers under the direction of Edie Ritchey gave their all. The Dixie Drillers not only practiced to perform during halftime shows but also for different activities year round.

In the summer they attended the Super Star Drill Team Camp at the University of Houston. There each girl learned several routines and was awarded for her performance. The Dixie Drillers also attended competition in San Marcos with the Rebel Rousers. Each routine was given superior ratings, thus awarding Lee a Sweepstakes trophy.

NSHS, Science Club

The National Spanish Honor Society is a selective organization. A student must earn an A average after two years of Spanish. Another requirement is reciting a very difficult tongue twister in Spanish.

One of their most important events was their participation in "Concursos Hispanicos" at San Antonio College.

Other activities included setting up a booth during lunch periods for "Get to Know Your Club Week," and also co-sponsored the symposium "Foreign Languages Night" for incoming students.

The goal of the Science Club is to create and encourage interest in science among students. Club projects include fund raising activities such as a mum sale and a booth at Volsfest.

They also sponsored a poster contest among elementary schools with a prize of $200. Field trips included excursions to "Enchanted Rock" and Padre Island.

OEA/VOE, Octagon

The Office Education Association and Vocational Office Education members, led by Mrs. Lorene Beatty and Mrs. Toni Smith, successfully tackled a new phase in their education. Word processing systems were added to the classrooms to acquaint the students with the world of computerized equipment.

OEA members sold confetti eggs at the 1982 Volsfest from their Chicken Ranch booth, which was awarded as the First Place winner in the amusement booth category by the PTA.

The Octagon Club, sponsored by the Harmony Hill XX Optimists, again qualified for the national "Blue Ribbon Award" given by Optimist International for outstanding service to the community.

Club members participated in numerous projects including a Halloween party at Ella Austin Community Center, working at the Special Olympics, giving a party for the children at Holmgren Shelter and a talent show for the residents of the Four Seasons Nursing Home.

Another project undertaken by the club members was the formation of a special Clown Unit. The clowns participated in the Rey Feo Parade during Fiesta, and they planned to visit children's shelters and hospitals.

The Octagon Club was led by Mrs. Mary Lysinger, Mrs. Patsy Thompson, Mrs. Brenda Northcutt and its officers: Mikki Wells, president; Michael Lysinger, vice-president; Julie Cardell, secretary; and Jennifer Ragland, treasurer. The Board of Directors consisted of Seniors Maria Barrera, Marilyn Berr and Dawn Waldron and Sophomores Carla Bull and Kathy Teniente.

Senior Class Theme

"Follow your dream . . . take one step at a time
And don't settle for less, just continue to climb.
Follow your dream . . . if you stumble don't stop
And lose sight of your goal, press on to the top.
For only on top can we see the whole view,
Can we see what we've done and what we can do,
Can we then have the vision to seek something new.
Press on and follow your dream."

— Amanda Bradley

The Varden Portrait

For some people, a diploma is not enough.

Some people feel that there should be more to graduation. More than just a diploma. A timeless commemorative of your graduation is the Varden portrait.

Your Varden portrait will speak with distinction. For over 30 years, the name Varden has meant the ultimate in portraiture. When you graduate, don't settle for less.

25 Years of Memories

As another school year came to a close, students ran in all different directions to fulfill their summer plans. Some went off to vacations, others went to summer school, and the Seniors will be off to a new life, college.

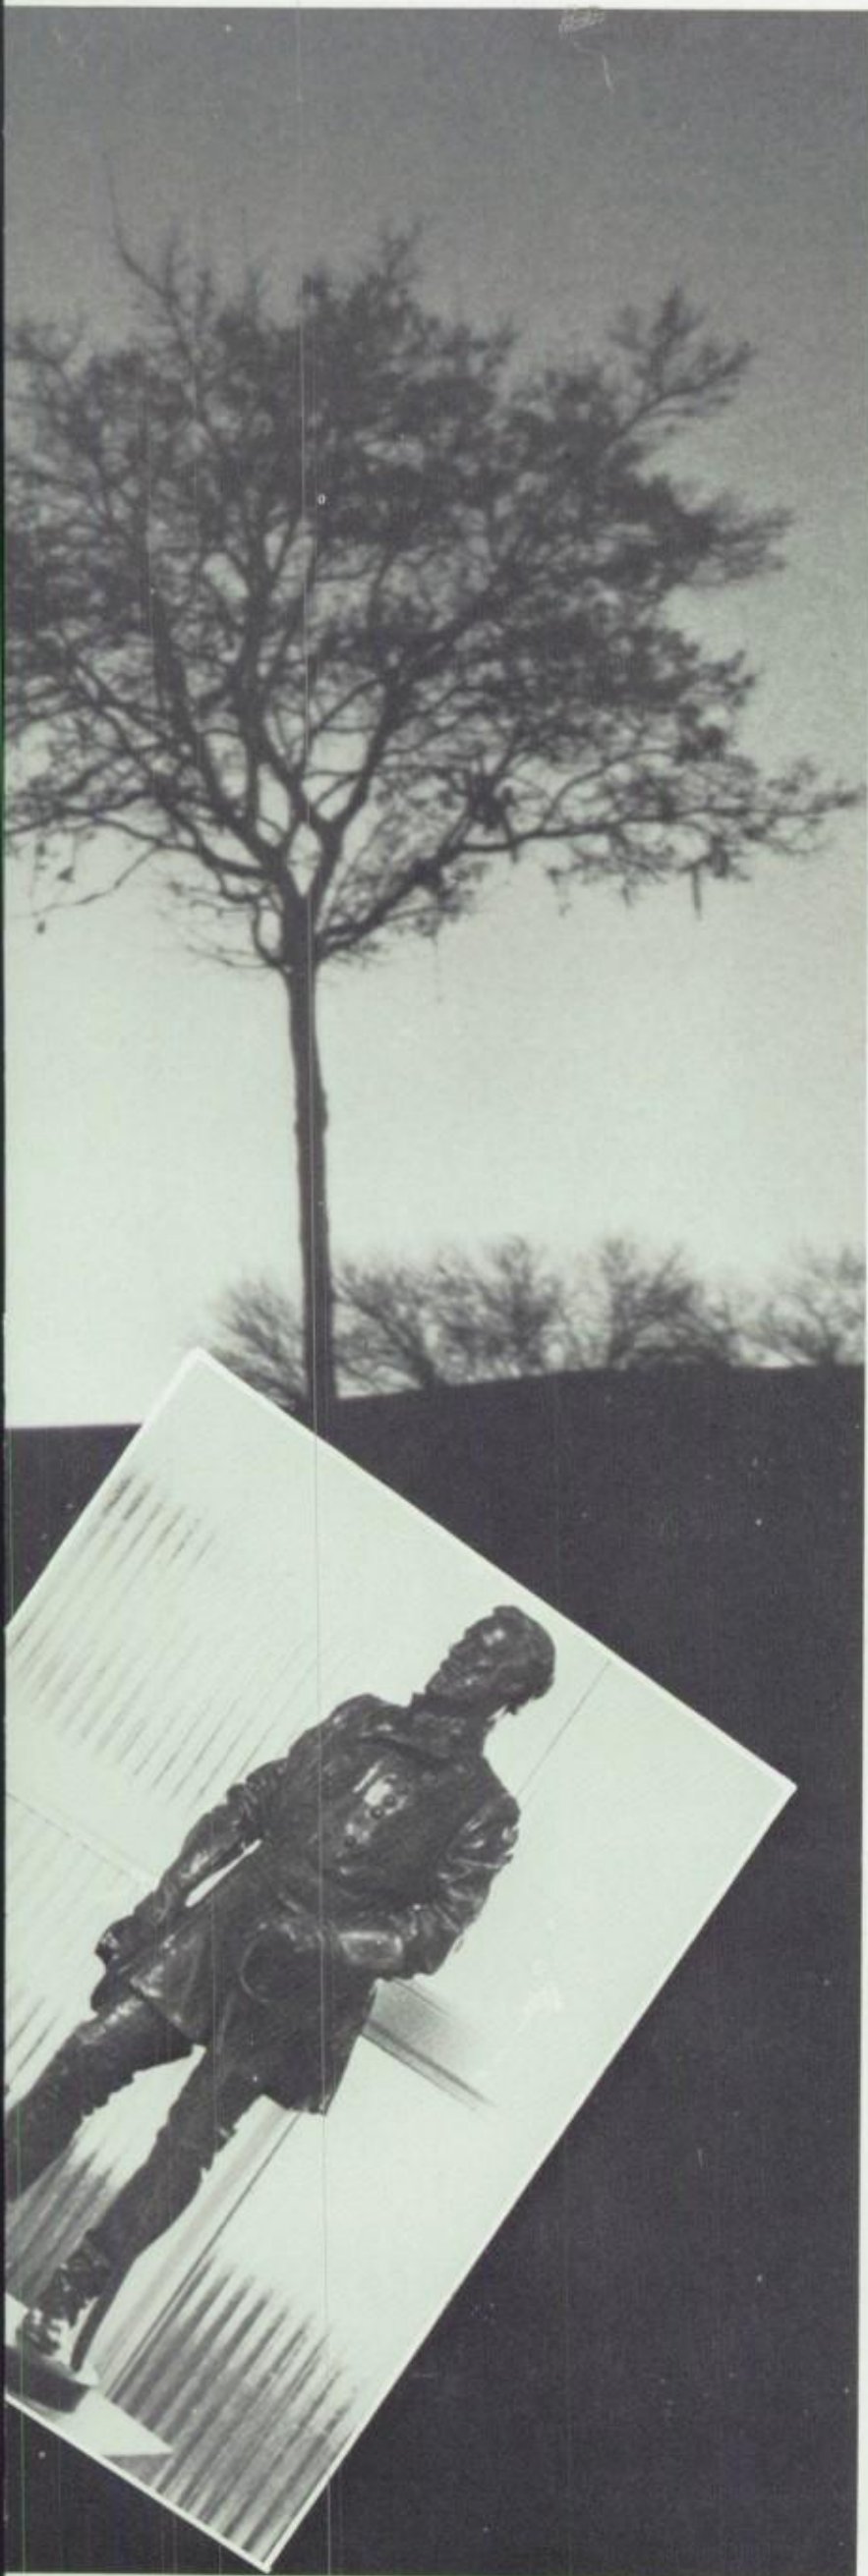

Those graduates will always remember the times they had at Lee, good times and bad times alike. As time goes on, the good memories will be all that remains.

As for the students that still attend Lee, we look forward to the rest of the times we will spend here. When we graduate, we too will be heading toward another life, one in which we have to make our own decisions and set our own rules. Until that life arrives, let the good times roll. Here's to the next twenty-five years of Robert E. Lee Happy silver anniversary to the Home of Champions.

Friendship is obviously important to these two students as they clown around in the main building.

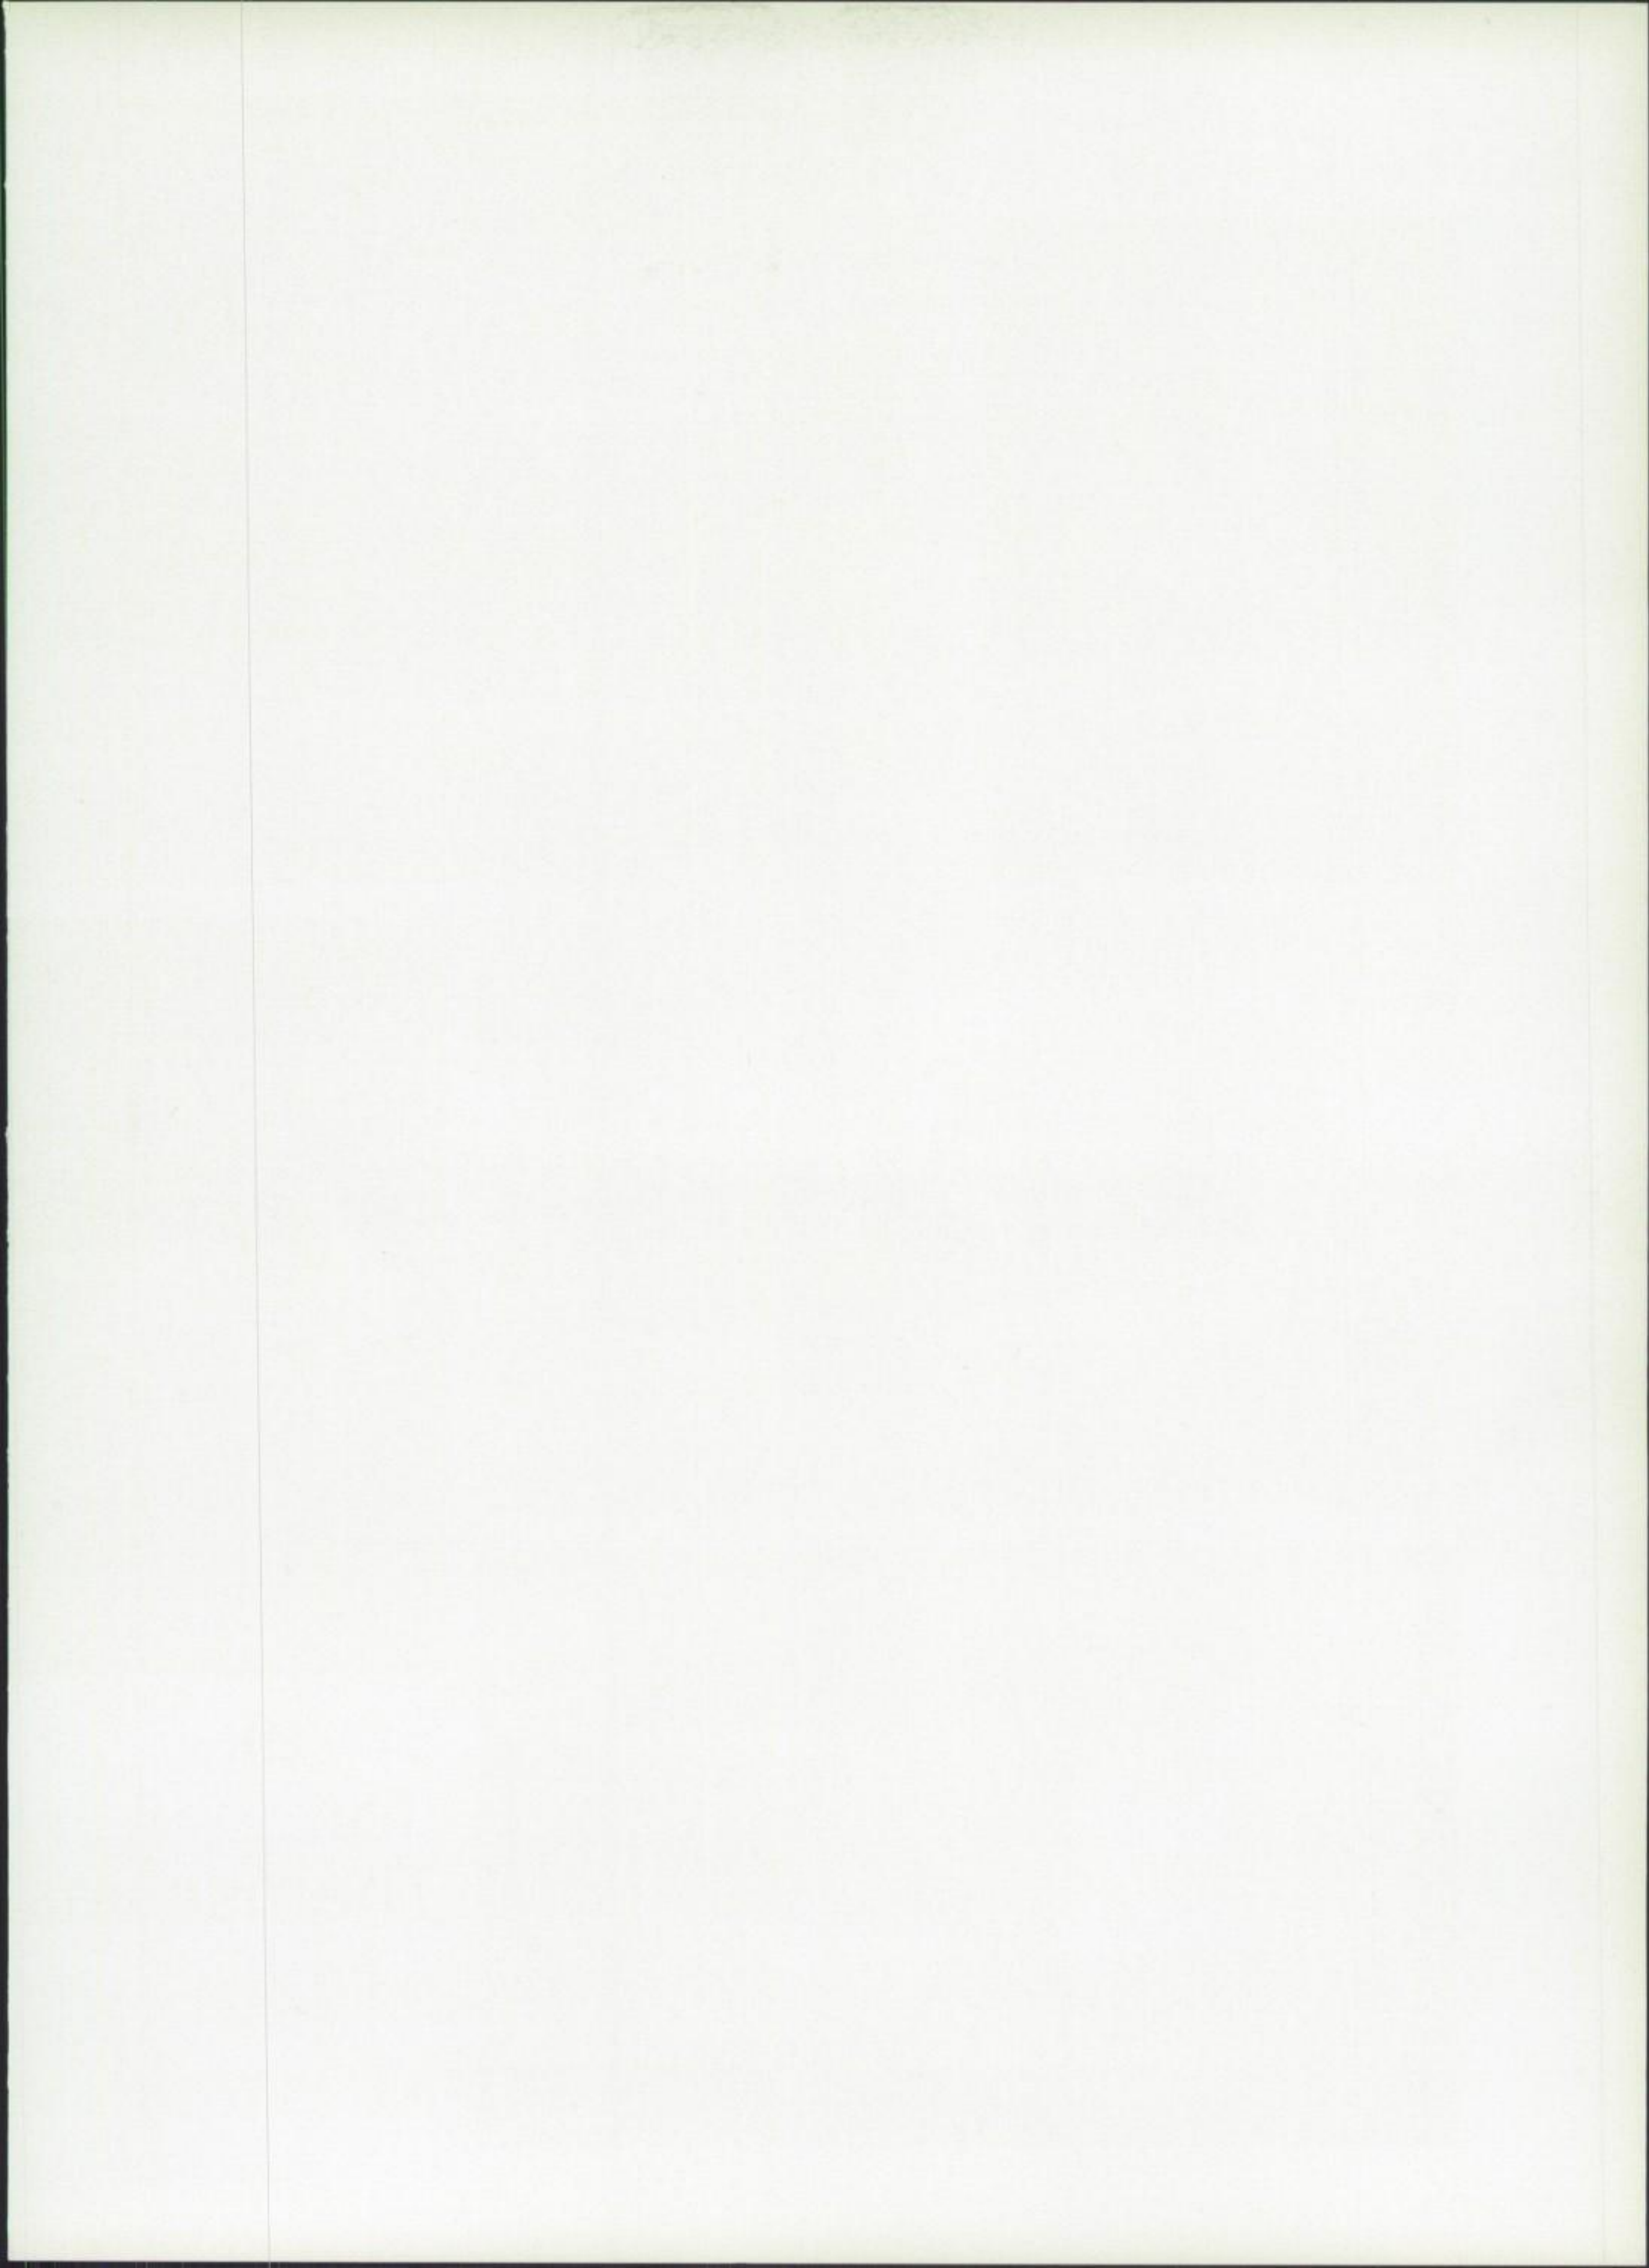

A statue of General Robert E. Lee is displayed in the main hall for visitors and students to enjoy.
